CHICAGO (AP) — The AFL-CIO executive council urged President Kennedy Thursday to order the Justice department into the Albany, Ga., racial dispute "to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful."

The 28-member council, ending its annual summer meeting, said in a resolution that the Negro civil rights campaign embodies "the greatest moral issue of our time—the right of all citizens to equality."

"We heartily urge the president to instruct the department of Justice to move into Albany, Ga., and to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful," the council said.

Stiff Rein Urged On Drugs

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association called on the federal government Thursday to split its food and drug directorate to permit stricter control of drugs.

Delegates to the CPA convention here said the drug field has grown so complex and presents such hazards it should be separated from food control.

They said a separate drug directorate would have the power to control the manufacture of drugs and their distribution through licensing.

The convention unanimously agreed there is a need for more stringent drug control in Canada, particularly in the manufacturing field.

Dr. A. W. Matthews, dean of the University of British Columbia faculty of pharmacy, was elected president of the association.

Turks Raided

ANKARA (AP) — Iraqi planes raided Turkish territory for the second straight day Thursday, the Turkish foreign ministry announced. It said later Iraq apologized for the incidents.

A brief announcement said Turkish jets fired on an attacking Iraqi plane near Baskan, about 25 miles inside Turkish territory.

Turkey had protested sharply to Iraq following the death of two soldiers in Wednesday's attacks, also near Baskan.

Sun Dances Eclipsed By Confusion

STAND OFF, Alta. (CP) — Time and civilization have forced changes in ancient dances performed at an annual two-week celebration staged near here by the Blood Indian reserve.

Indian leaders say it's unlikely the entire series ever will be performed again. A special sun lodge, covered with branches, built for the first time this year since 1843, won't be built again. The intricate dances were staged in the lodge.

The first dance to go is the sun dance performed by members of the Horn Society of the Blood Indian tribe. Only two elderly men know the intricate chants for it.

FEW VOLUNTEER

One is Riding-At-The-Door, who performed at this year's ceremony and the other is blind and unable to participate.

The dance must be led by an extremely saintly woman and Indian leaders say few will volunteer.

About 1,000 tribe members took part in the celebrations this year. They ended Wednesday. They were held, as has been the custom for years, at Belly Buttes, a wind-swept slope above the Belly River, about 25 miles southwest of Lethbridge.

The land has never been turned by a plow and has been the domain of the mighty Blackfoot nation since they drove the Crees south. The Blood tribe was assigned to guard the area.

SOME CONFUSION

Because only two men know the entire series of chants interpretation of the ceremonies are confused. Some Indians say the rites used symbols of Christianity, others say the prayers were intended for the sun god.

Still others say the sun is an enemy and the purpose of the ceremony is to make the thunderbird release rain.

The camp at Belly Buttes in many ways was the personification of the Indian as he once was — the proud and mighty warrior, master of all as far as he could see.

Principle Over NATO

U.S. Snubs Ally For Indonesia

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The non-aligned Indonesian regime, with its friendly links to Moscow, has scored a major triumph over a NATO member in trouble — loaded Southeast Asia.

Just as another NATO ally, Portugal, found reason to be upset with the rule of the United States in the loss of tiny Goa, so the Netherlands may also have reason to be displeased with the lack of U.S. support in opposing Indonesia's take-over of West New Guinea.

ACCEDE TO DEMANDS

Faced with the prospect of fighting a lonely and costly war over a jungle-choked territory, the Dutch government has yielded with all the grace it could muster and acceded to President Sukarno's demands that it get out of Dutch New Guinea as quickly as possible.

The Aug. 15 agreement signed at the United Nations turns over West New Guinea to Indonesia next May after a temporary reign by the United Nations. And Indonesia has agreed to allow the Papuan natives to decide in seven years whether they want to remain part of Indonesia or become independent.

ACTIVELY COURTING

While the U.S. may be tied to Portugal and the Netherlands through the North Atlantic alliance, American diplomats are actively aware of the growth of non-aligned political forces and are actively courting these forces by making clear by deed and word the U.S. repugnance of old-style colonialism.

This may not help promote warmth and cohesion among the NATO allies. But in persuading the Netherlands to play ball with Sukarno, the U.S. at least has helped restore peace in a troublesome area.

Hit Parade Keeps Youth Off Streets

OTTAWA (UPI) — Veteran Canadian broadcaster Corey Thompson defends United States hit parade music as a "tremendous" weapon against juvenile delinquency.

"I'm tired of hearing people knock the American hit parade," he said. "It's keeping young people at home listening instead of having them roam the streets."

Clerics Press Ghana

PARIS (Reuters) — The World Council of Churches Thursday night asked the Ghanaian government to reconsider its decision to expel the Anglican bishop of Accra, Dr. Reginald Roseveare, and withdraw the visiting permit of the Archbishop of West Africa, Most Rev. Cecil Patterson.

RIGHT, DUTY

A unanimous resolution said the council's central committee "reaffirms the belief that the true well-being of a people requires liberty to call public attention to matters affecting the common good and especially that those who hold pastoral office in the church have the right and duty to express responsible judgment in matters of religious faith affecting the life of society."

The International Council of Christian Churches, meeting in Amsterdam, Thursday passed a resolution saying its members "vigorously protest this denial of religious freedom by the Ghana government."

INFALLIBLE BIBLE

The ICCC groups 83 small Protestant denominations and associations of churches whose key point of agreement is a belief in the infallibility of the scriptures. It opposes the bigger World Council of Churches, which contains the larger Protestant bodies.

Earlier Ernest C. Elcher, president of the Middle East Bible Council, warned against any efforts to create religious fellowship with non-Christian groups, such as Moslems or Buddhists.

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 19-year-old youth, who went through three stop signs at speeds over 100 miles an hour trying to evade a police cruiser, was fined $100 in provincial court here on a charge of furious driving.

Asked why he went through three stop signs, Terrance Wallace told the court:

"When I'm driving at 100 miles an hour I keep my eyes on the road."

Red Tape Kills Nursing Home

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — A nursing home described by a state investigator as "a shining example" closed Thursday because, the proprietor said:

"It was just impossible.

There were 10 state and federal agencies putting forms, questions and statistical requests across my desk. Medical reports . . . census figures . . . social security . . . unemployment insurance . . . workmen's compensation . . . withholding taxes . . . daily time sheets . . . work plans."

Mrs. Earl Gundrum, who has operated the 24-room home in nearby Detroitville for 18 years, added:

"In one form they asked me if I had any dealings with a labor union. I checked 'no.' They asked me if I received any gifts from, or gave any to, the union. I left that blank, figuring if I didn't deal with a union I naturally didn't exchange presents."

"So they sent the questionnaire back, telling me to fill in the blanks."

"It was just one darn thing after another."

Mrs. Gundrum had 21 patients and 14 employees.

A letter from the state social welfare department last year told her:

"Your staff and yourself are to be commended for the excellent services offered the patients entrusted in your care."

OTTAWA (CP) — A section of ice shelf covering some 200 square miles has detached itself from the north coast of Ellesmere Island at the top of the continent and is floating freely in the Arctic Ocean, the Defence Research Board said Thursday.

The huge area of ice, located about 2,600 miles north of Ottawa, is believed by DRB scientists to have maintained its original fixed position for hundreds of years before breaking away.

DRIFTED 30 MILES

The detachment of the ice shelf was reported by DRB following the return to Ottawa of Dr. Geoffrey Hattersley-Smith, DRB glaciologist, from the research station at Lake Hazen on Ellesmere Island.

Dr. Hattersley-Smith said the huge ice shelf has apparently drifted some 30 miles from its original landfast position near the field research area of a United States party active in 1960.

Experts Closet Orbit Heroes

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russia's twin space heroes faced a battery of scientists and doctors Thursday while Moscow prepared to give them a rapturous welcome.

The record-setting cosmonauts, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev and Lt.-Col. Pavel R. Popovich were flown from distant Karakanda, near the place in the Kazakhstan Desert where they landed Wednesday, to an undisclosed place called only a "destination point."

There they were to begin an exhaustive series of tests and interviews by space experts on their flights, in which they covered a total of nearly 3,000,000 miles.

RED CANAVERAL

The destination point was believed to be Baikonour, the "Soviet Cape Canaveral" about 350 miles from Karakanda, from where the two were reported launched last weekend on their triumphant journey through space.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said they would be met by "members of the state commission and will have to make a detailed report on their work and life in outer space."

STILL SECRETS

Two major aspects of their flights were still being kept dark—how they landed and how much their space crafts weighed.

The ecstatic reports in the Soviet press implied that the two cosmonauts came to earth inside their capsules, Vostok III and Vostok IV, but gave no specific details.

Western observers were waiting for any announcement of the weight of the two capsules as an indication of the power of the giant rockets that hurled them into space.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ten days ago, four-year-old Richard Bullock accidentally shot and killed his three-year-old brother Michael while playing with his father's loaded pistol.

Schools to Reopen Despite Exodus

ALGIERS (CP) — Leaders of the political bureau of Algeria's National Liberation Front (FLN) began preparations Thursday for reopening the country's schools in October.

As a result of the recent great European exodus, the school situation is a difficult one. According to unofficial estimates, 70 per cent of primary teachers and 90 per cent of secondary teachers have left the country. There is only one professor left in Algiers University.

Story Only Beginning

WASHINGTON — Revered Gen. Douglas MacArthur says America's story of greatness is only beginning to unfold. Anyone who does not believe the U.S. has a glorious future "should have his brain examined," he told a group of congressmen.

But his own story, the 82-year-old five-star general told congressmen, is coming to an end.

It was another day of triumph for MacArthur, returning to Capitol Hill for "thanks and appreciation" from Congress 11 years after a dramatic speech before a joint session of the House and Senate in which he said it was time for him, as an old soldier, to fade away.

LOS ANGELES — A suicide team psychologist seeking to determine whether Marilyn Monroe killed herself says his group investigated the star's "possible fantasies and thoughts of death and dying" in the last days of her life.

He says it did appear the actress was emotionally "disturbed" at that time, but wouldn't speculate on whether she deliberately took a lethal overdose of drugs.

WASHINGTON — George M. Humphrey has told Senate investigators it was "just bunk" that his mining company engaged in profit-making shenanigans at taxpayers' expense while he was treasury secretary and held stock in the firm.

SACKVILLE, N.B. — A British entry into the European Common Market would mean the disintegration of the Commonwealth, Social Credit leader Robert Thompson said.

SACKVILLE, N.B. — Jean Monnet, president of the Action Committee of the United States of Europe, says he is optimistic that Great Britain would soon be a member of the European community.

LONDON — Sir Winston Churchill, progressing well in his recovery from a fractured thigh, has been told of the death of a faithful companion, his little brown poodle, Rufus. The dog, 15 years old, died in his sleep Wednesday night.

BEIRUT — Emir Talal Abdel Aziz, brother of Saudi Arabia's King Saud, says he intends to end the king's rule no matter "what measures may be taken against me," and adds that he intends to return home to lead his country.

LONDON — The Home Office is considering request for asylum from a Polish fisherman who fled his Communist-run homeland in a 40-foot motor vessel. Powel Patrzalek, 40, surrendered to immigration officials at Grimsby after making the 600-mile trip across the North Sea alone.

NEW WESTMINSTER — Peter Lewis Martin Day, 24, who escaped from the British Columbia penitentiary here, has had three months added to his sentence. He was serving a five-year sentence for manslaughter.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Acting secretary-general U Thant of the United Nations has dismissed as absurd charges by his landlord that he used his New York apartment for wild parties.

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will give a dinner party for Commonwealth prime ministers at Buckingham Palace in London on Sept. 13.

MONTREAL — Air Vice Marshal J. B. Harvey has taken command of the northern region, North American Air Defence Command, with headquarters at nearby St. Hubert RCAF station. He succeeds Air Vice Marshal William Macbrien in the NORAD job. Air Vice Marshal Macbrien, also head of Air Defence Command, had held a dual post since 1958.

SALISBURY — Jasper Savanhu, first Negro to hold an executive post in the central African Rhodesia federation resigned Tuesday charging that Europeans are "incapable" of treating other races fairly.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told acting secretary-general Thant he was hopeful the U.S. Congress would approve the purchase of UN bonds before the end of this month.

MOSCOW — The Soviet government has announced the expulsion of the first American newspaper since official censorship was lifted 17 months ago. Accreditation of Newsweek magazine's Moscow bureau chief, Whitman Basson, was cancelled because of "crudely slanderous dispatches."

Negroes Cancel Protest

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI) — Albany Negroes Thursday called off a scheduled racial demonstration but said they would continue to protest segregation with smaller demonstrations, a continued retail store boycott and a voter registration drive.

A spokesman for the integrationist Albany Movement said lawyers had advised sticking closely to points covered in an omnibus desegregation suit now before a federal district court here.

However, Dr. W. G. Anderson, president of the Albany Movement, said local Negroes have not changed their drive for full-scale desegregation of public facilities.

Chief Takes Charge Of Robbery Probe

BOSTON (AP) — Henry B. Montague, 50-year-old chief U.S. postal inspector, flew from Washington Thursday to take charge of the widespread hunt for the bandits who snatched $1,551,277 from a mail truck Tuesday night.

SOME CLUES

A round-the-clock check of all reports and rumors has brought these results:

A burned automobile, found in Boston, carried in its trunk detour signs, similar to one set up by the bandits in their smoothly carried out stickup.

A check produced three fingerprints on the trunk of the car, which police learned, had been stolen June 12.

IN UNIFORM

Several motorists who were forced to make the detour from the Plymouth bypass have come forward and said they saw a man in police uniform standing at the barrier.

This led to the theory that two of the robbers wore police uniforms.

Police believe the detour sign was set up after the mail truck drove north of the bypass.

State police broadcast an alarm for five men and a woman.

Prophet's Profit

WITH THE POSSIBLE exception of the leading prophets of doom in the Liberal Party, Canadians will note with some satisfaction that the government's dollar devaluation policy is beginning to pay off handsomely.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' recent announcement that the lower exchange rate on the Canadian dollar resulted in domestic exports setting the highest monthly record in history during May not only vindicates the government's courageous and realistic action but completely refutes the Liberal election claim that it was a dangerous and irresponsible move which could only result in further damage to the nation's economy.

The facts, which speak for themselves, are these: In less than a full month after the dollar adjustment was initiated on May 3, exports of Canadian-made goods reached a value of $597,671,000—$51,271,000 more than the previous high recorded in October, 1961, and 33.2 per cent higher than the May, 1961, figure.

Though once again proven wrong in their forecasts the Grits are by no means giving up their desperate search to find other means of spreading their words of gloom and predictions of disaster. Their latest gambit in this direction is their attempt to compare Canada's economic recovery program with that of the United States—with the obvious hope of downgrading their own country's efforts.

It must therefore be most upsetting to them to find that Canada's record can stand such a comparison with ease.

On the question of unemployment alone—which is such a favorite topic of debate among Liberal brain-trusters—Canada is now able to register fewer jobs on a population proportion basis than the United States. In Canada at mid-July unemployment represented 4.5 per cent of the labor force; while for the same period the United States government reports that 5.3 per cent of its labor force were out of work.

Certainly in view of these developments even the Liberals must now recognize that there is little political profit in being a prophet of despair these days.

An Important Step

THE SURVEY of Vancouver Island's tourist industry to be started at once by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce comes rather late in an unusual season, but despite these detriments holds promise of being a most useful project.

The facts and figures gathered by the junior chamber in the next two months through questionnaires distributed to tourists leaving the Island by ferry may not in all cases be truly representative of normalcy. The school vacation period, the peak of family travel, is nearly over for instance, and this will color the results of the survey.

This year's record numbers of visitors moreover apparently are on the average spending less, travelling less on the Island, and staying for shorter periods than they would but for devoting so much of their time and money to the Century 21 world's fair in Seattle.

These circumstances suggest that the survey might well be continued next summer, when the tourist spending pattern could be determined with more accuracy and under more usual conditions.

But meantime better information than now exists will be gained on the value of the tourist trade. The present statistics or estimates on per capita spending, for example, range all the way from the slightly less than $8 a day calculated by the Capital Region Planning Board five years ago to the $30 a day now sometimes cited. And the validity of much that is learned will not be questioned. For instance the tourists will be asked what they like and dislike about Vancouver Island and what would induce them to come back and stay longer.

The answers to these questions alone should be of considerable benefit in proceeding with the junior chamber's further purpose of holding a winter conference to study how to retain visitors after the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau and other publicity organizations have fulfilled their function of attracting them, and to consider the organization of a Vancouver Island tourist development board to promote and co-ordinate all such efforts.

Thus the Jaycees will be seen to have taken an important step with far-reaching potential consequences of value to the Island.

For a Fuller Life

EDUCATION doesn't stop when the schoolroom is left behind; it goes on willy-nilly even if individuals are unconsciously of it. Every day adds to the sum total of man's knowledge and experience.

The acquisition of knowledge can be positively pointed, however, by those anxious to make up for deficiencies. It is here that the local school board steps in with adult evening classes to provide avenues of learning for persons denied the opportunity of earlier progressive study.

The list of courses offered for the fall term beginning next month contains no fewer than 275 subjects, not all of a scholastic nature but nevertheless designed to promote a fuller life and enrich the joy of personal living.

Any program that extends in range from cake decorating to navigation, from sales techniques to tailoring, from dancing to baby-sitting, not to mention woodcraft, literature, mechanics, accounting or sculpture, is bound to indicate that the school board has thought for the grown-ups as well as for the many school children in its care.

These adult courses give individuals a chance to improve their vocational aptitudes and thus their earning power, to indulge in what are termed the cultural virtues of life, and to heighten their enjoyment of hobby and recreation; diversion.

The syllabus is one that does credit to the board and to the army of instructors they are able to harness to the task of imparting knowledge. It should add immensely to the wealth of the adults who take advantage of the classes.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes, and ships, and sealing wax..."

By TOM TAYLOR

SO it wasn't the Black Watch after all! How this will relieve the feelings of a certain old warrior in town I know.

But of course he wouldn't believe the story anyway.

You will recollect the news dispatch, hot over the wires on Tuesday last, and demanding the VIP treatment it got. Are not the chaps of the legendary 42nd, whose tartan Victoria girls wear, formally titled The Royal Highlanders?

That gives you an idea of their quality.

I am not bowing to it, you must understand, having other fish to fry, as it were. Modesty alone holds back the name of the really "crack" regiment of Highlanders.

***

The tale that was unfolded all the way from Stirling Castle cast an aspersions on the vigilance of the Black Watch. It said some engineer corps bloke, disguised as a tourist, had sneaked into the castle and thrown a bomb into the CO's office.

And then disappeared undetected.

It was a "dead" bomb and the idea was simply to show how the engineers could outwit the infantry, but you can imagine the insult.

As you know this happened 6,000 miles away, but immediately the story came over the wires it was brought to yours truly. I have half a notion this was to rub something home, although as I say I hold no brief for the Black Watch.

They can take care of themselves.

There is a sort of feeling around our place of business, however that, for reasons I need not elaborate — they will be familiar to my regular readers — I am well up on matters of this sort. Actually I know little more than my neighbors but I am careful not to distinguish anyone.

One must cling to an appearance of erudition even if it may be false.

***

I will say though that I was a bit suspicious that someone had got his facts a little askew, as Burns would say. Stirling Castle is the home of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, not the Black Watch. And I couldn't see what the latter were doing in a foreign bailiwick.

Now a correction has come along. It was in truth the Argylls who were asleep and not the 42nd. The old warrior I mentioned will be relieved. Another sturdy character I know will not.

As he will be quick to point out, as one un-censored Argyll on the spot has done, that they won't sleep but busy with more important things. Such, perhaps, as entertaining parents to tea, a routine imposed on them nowadays so that anxious mothers can be assured that their beloved soldier sons are being nicely nursed.

When the RSM isn't looking, that is.

Or marshalling the tourists who flock to the castle and who could, say single one of them, plant half-a-dozen bombs. Just as one might do at any military installation which is open to the public.

Anyway, when it comes to real vigilance the A. and S.H. give them their due, take a back seat to no one.

They are the fellows, you know, who constituted the original Thin Red Line.

***

If there are any red faces, then, as the first Reuters dispatch so tersely noted, they belong to the news agency which made the error.

***

Even so the correction, perhaps as an excuse for the mistake, says that the Black Watch also train in the castle. This seems rather strange, if only because there isn't much room in the castle for training more than a few platoons at a time, let alone another regiment.

If you have seen the movie, "Tunes of Glory," you will appreciate the limitations of space involved.

But apart from this I should think it highly unlikely that the Black Watch would train in the depot of another regiment.

They'd stick to their own territory, where, not having a tourist castle to defend, they'd be able to make short work of any engineer man who sought to impugn their military watch.

Twenty-Year-Old Draft

Another Mein Kampf

By BERTHA SOLOMON
from Johannesburg

IN JANUARY of 1942 while the late General Smuts was in command of the Union of South Africa and the country was at war, there appeared in "Die Transvaler," then as now the official Nationalist paper of the Transvaal, a "draft constitution" of the republic for which the Nationalists were hoping.

At that time Dr. Verwoerd, now the prime minister of the Republic of South Africa, was the editor of "Die Transvaler," and because of its sinister fascist terms, the "draft" caused a considerable stir in the country.

Thereupon its authorship was hastily disclaimed by the Nationalist party who even now recent any mention of it. "Just the dead hand of the past and should be discarded."

But looking back to it today after 20 years, it is disturbing to see how many of the draft's provisions have been carried out. For instance, the draft aimed at the total abolition of the monarchy in South Africa and all its constitutional ties with Great Britain including the British anthem, the Union Jack, dual citizenship and the British currency system.

In the 14 years since the Nationalists have been in power, the Republic of South Africa has come into being and all these aims have been achieved.

In fact, if properly read, there can be found in this remarkable document the germs of every Nationalist race law that has been put on the statute book from the Bantustans and the Immorality Act to the Group Areas Act, etc.

The draft makes it clear too that each of these acts of the Nationalists is part of a planned master strategy. Like Hitler's Mein Kampf it indicated a plan of action which anyone could read. But again like Hitler's Mein Kampf, it has been disregarded by South Africans in general, until now hit by bit it has been incorporated into the law of the country.

Finally the Sabotage Act, just passed, completes the picture, by embodying the whole totalitarian spirit of the draft which laid down in set terms that the state must ensure that the individual citizen well as the organs of public opinion, like parties, the radio, the press and the cinema, while free to criticize government policy—shall not be allowed to undermine internally or externally the public order or good morals of the republic.

What leads one's thoughts to that 20-year-old draft constitution today is the list of the "banned" just published by the minister of justice who piloted the Sabotage Act through Parliament.

This is a list of persons prohibited under the Riotous Assemblies Act and the Suppression of Communism Act from attending public gatherings, as well as having various other limitations put upon them. A good many of those listed are Communists or at least definitely very pink; but equally a good many of them are neither.

Nevertheless, the new act makes it an offence to publish or report either past statements or future statements made, however long ago they were made, and naturally also, any present speeches being made by these people, an obvious and deliberate attempt to silence some of the most vigorous opponents of the established order of things in the country.

But like so much Nationalist legislation, the will in this act has rather out-run the deed, so that the act has created an absurd situation in one respect at least. It is not at all clear now whether newspapers may report what these listed people say, even in court proceedings in which they may be involved.

Also several of the persons on the banned list have fled the country to carry on their campaigns against South Africa abroad with great vigor. Their speeches too are unreportable here, and so their statements, true or not, may well pass unreported—an unhappy state of affairs for the country.

At Any Price?

I HAVE received the following letter from the Rev. Robert Hood:

"Dear Cassandra,

"The surest way to give Sir Oswald Mosley what he wants, is to deny him freedom of speech by an Act of Parliament which would deny this freedom to everybody else. If it is made a criminal offence to make 'speeches calculated to incite racial hatred or religious prejudice' it might find itself in trouble."

"Who is to do the calculating? It is odd that you do not believe in a common market of words and ideas so that if Mosley is selling rotten apples you can be sure nobody will buy them. However that may be, there is no reason for including religious prejudice."

"Prejudice is to form a judgment without hearing and considering the evidence on both sides. Freedom of thought and speech are essential to the realization of religious truth. Is this to be denied because of the Fascists?"

By CASSANDRA
from London

"There was a time when the preaching of the gospel in this country was an incitement to disorder. This was not the fault of the preachers, among whom was Wesley."

"The prejudice was in the mind of the listeners. There was a time when the preaching of agnosticism was an incitement to disorder."

"But today even those who disagree with them, acknowledge their right to publish their ideas or lack of them."

"The tree of liberty has been carefully husbanded and even watered by blood through the centuries, so let us not cut away its roots of free thought and speech just because of the passing shadow of Mosley."

Would Mr. Hood apply the same theoretical doctrine of free speech at any price to that little nucleus of criminals and perverts who finally blossomed out into the leaders of the Nazi Party?

It all began way back in the late twenties and early thirties when Hitler, Roshin, Drexler, Hess, Strasser, Goering, Streicher, Frank, Himmler and Goebbels—roughly in that order—set out on their evil path that finally led to the death of 30,000,000 human beings before their natural span.

Mosley's doctrines are not dissimilar.

Would the Rev. Robert Hood, presumably speaking in the name of the Christian Church, sponsor the freedom of speech to exploit all that is base in the make-up of men?

He quotes Wesley. Wesley preached compassion. Wesley battled for the poor, the weak and the lost battalions of mankind. Wesley fought for the oppressed, and at his death his followers numbered more than a hundred thousand.

"The tree of liberty," to quote Mr. Hood, "has been watered by blood through the centuries."

How much more blood must be shed to allow wickedness to advocate itself in this age of genocide?

Has Mosley the same right as John Wesley had to preach his doctrines?

Anchor in Elections

Anchor or Sail

By DON COLLIER from Washington

THE mid-term Congressional elections now shaping up hold the key to the appalling dilemma of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The president is at the crossroads of his glittering, meteoric career and the choices are these:

Will he be a lame-duck president for the next two years, deserted by Congress on nearly every major issue?

Or will he muster such a show of popular support for "Kennedy men" at the polls that he will crush the Congressional opposition that has blocked all but seven per cent of his legislation so far in this "do-nothing" session of Congress?

It has been a remarkable session, with the commanding conservative coalition of both parties never overlooking the slim margin by which Kennedy defeated Richard Nixon.

Does Kennedy speak for the nation? Or does Congress? The votes on November 6 should give a good idea.

The outcome is not at all predictable. The polls suggest Kennedy is very popular, but some astute observers here feel that Kennedy's drive for medical care and the like may, in fact, boomerang in a nation that finds it hard to accept and swallow radical change.

The choice, as Kennedy sees it, is very clear. It is "to anchor down or to sail."

Without a decisive demonstration of support in Congress, the harsh prediction is that Kennedy has seen his best days in Congress.

Last year, he mustered support for 68 per cent of his legislation, but that was the usual "honeymoon period" (Congress allows a new president some leniency in the first few months of his term).

This is the Kennedy score-board, as it is now. It may not look much better when many Congressmen hurry home to seek re-election.

PASSED: The trade bill, giving him power to negotiate tariff cuts with the Common Market;

A manpower retraining bill;

A $4,000,000,000 foreign aid bill;

A welfare law revision.

KILLED BY CONGRESS: A Department of Urban Affairs—defeated twice, first as a bill and then as a reorganization plan.

Medical care for the aged—killed by the Senate, and it would have been killed by the House if it had ever reached there.

Farm bill—The House killed the plan for tight production controls to trim farm surpluses.

Civil defence—The House appropriations committee cut off funds for a massive fallout shelter program.

In the category of "highly doubtful" are these key measures:

Drug reform. In spite of the uproar over thalidomide, this will take pushing to get past the pharmaceutical lobby.

Tax reform. This is the bill to end "tax havens" abroad and to give industry tax concessions in return for expansion and modernization.

Aid to education. Aid to elementary schools wasn't even considered.

Postal rate increases. Outlook poor.

On that record, a Canadian observer must question if Kennedy and Congress represent the same people. They are divided to the point where the things they agree on add up—almost—to a small egg.

Influencing Congress, fate played Kennedy a foul trick in the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn, who was probably history's most effective bridge between the two branches of government.

To make things worse, Lyndon Johnson, as vice-president, is banned from the political brawling he did so well as Senate leader. Now new leaders struggle in the shadows of these "greats."

All these are important factors in the current malaise. The troubles are not only between Kennedy and Congress. They exist between the Senate and the House of Representatives, whose relations, it is said, are "as bad as they have been in 20 years."

To get over the crisis now facing him, Kennedy plans a vigorous campaign in support of his program this fall.

He believes if he is wrong, if the "Kennedy men" are defeated, Kennedy is defeated, too.

Some Democratic political experts fear that Kennedy may be wrong in pinning his fall campaign to the medical care issue.

He will imply that the Democrats are the "party with the heart" wanting to care for the old people. But Washington Post analyst Chalmers Roberts points out: "This is not the way medicine is being viewed by the voters, or at least by a large number of the voters."

However, the picture is not one of unrelieved black for Kennedy.

Robert J. Donovan, the New York Herald Tribune chief here, points out the similarity between Kennedy's administration after two years and the same stage in Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration.

If anything, Kennedy's troubles are probably worse, certainly far more diversified than Roosevelt's were.

Besides all the domestic issues, he has all the problems of leading a nation that is the pivot of world defence.

This is a position that involves crisis after crisis. This summer, for example, he may have to face two immediate crises—the signing of a peace treaty between Russia and East Germany, and a UN decision to use force to unify Katanga with the Congo.

A man who has to take such decisions is at the crossroads every minute of the day.

But this year, when Mr. and Mrs. John Doe vote for pro-Kennedy or anti-Kennedy congressman, he will know if he will be fattened—or free to face them as he thinks they should be faced.

The Packback

Insatiable Demand

By GREGORY CLARK

THE thalidomide case, like all other disasters, will soon retire from the public attention; but the insatiable demand for comfort, ease and emancipation from the normal hardships of life will continue unabated. The unfortunate people who took thalidomide are in no way to be reproached. There is not one among us who does not now avail himself or herself of the amenities of life which science is constantly thinking up for us, whether pills, wonder drugs, or the countless mechanical devices and gadgets, from cars and washer-dryers to translators in our pocket radios.

Convenience, facility, relief, mitigation are the watchwords of the century in which we live. The hard exertions by which our entire species rose from the dust are being eliminated. The clerk or accountant no longer has to figure, add and subtract. He's got a little machine to do it.

The lumberjack no longer swings the axe. He has a portable gasoline chain saw. No treading frontiersman has to manhandle teams of horses to build the road or clear the bush. In thermal jacket, he rides a giant bulldozer. Our executives, most envied of all soft men, no longer have to think. There is an electronic computer to solve everything for them. In a hundred years, none of us will require arms and legs, or even brains.

Battling Kurds Seek UN Support

By DAVID LANCAIRRIE
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Kurdish tribal warriors, fighting for self-rule with ancient rifles and captured Soviet weapons, are reported to have won effective control of northern Iraq.

Dick Anderson, Middle East correspondent of the Swiss Broadcasting Corporation, spent 40 days with Kurdish partisans in remote mountains along the Turkish-Iranian frontier. He lived two weeks in the secret headquarters camp of Mullah Mustafa Barzani, leader of the revolt. Barzani, 59-year-old mullah (religious leader) who spent 12 years in exile in the Soviet Union, estimates the government has lost more than 1,000 men against 72 Kurdish casualties during the fighting.

Despite his Soviet background,

Barzani calls himself a nationalist and "insists: 'I am not a Communist'." Through a letter smuggled out by agents Barzani has appealed for support from the United Nations. "We want autonomy for the Kurds within Iraq," Barzani declared. He said the traditional idea of an independent nation embracing tribesmen in neighboring Iran, Turkey and Syria was impractical.

Papuan Pact Pleases Neighbors

MANILA, The Philippines (AP)—Southeast Asians greeted with relief and jubilation the Dutch agreement that virtually handed over West New Guinea to Indonesia.

Settlement of the 13-year dispute was heralded Thursday as opening the way for a new era of peace and prosperity in the vast South Pacific region.

Under an agreement signed Wednesday, the territory will be transferred to United Nations administration and then taken over by Indonesia with the promise of a self-determination plebiscite among the 700,000 native Papuans in 1969.

The Netherlands government, which had promised to safeguard the future of the Papuans they have ruled for 134 years, made plain it yielded under pressure—particularly from the United States.

But many quarters—even in Holland—said the Dutch stand to gain in the long run by paving the way for patching up relations with Indonesia and going back into business in their former rich colony.

Seized Dutch Property

The dispute over West New Guinea led President Sukarno to seize $1,500,000,000 worth of Dutch property in Indonesia in 1967 and to break off diplomatic ties in 1960.

The daily Handels en Transport Courant stressed the economic tie with Indonesia and said the job ahead was not one for diplomats but for Dutch businessmen "who have shown in the past more astute in this field."

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines sent congratulations to Sukarno on the "happy solution" of the dispute.

The Philippines privately warned several months ago that it would ban use of American military bases here in the event of U.S. intervention in a war between the Dutch and Indonesia. Sukarno sought the pledge and it was given on condition that no other country—particularly Communist—intervene either, a high source said, and Sukarno accepted this condition. Malayan Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman called the settlement "good for Southeast Asia and good for the world." He had tried unsuccessfully to mediate the dispute before retired U.S. diplomat Ellsworth Bunker moved in as chief negotiator with the help of UN Acting Secretary-General U Thant.

Indonesia stands to inherit 161,000 square miles of real estate so primitive that headhunting and cannibalism are still practiced in some areas. The Dutch have poured millions of dollars into the territory without making much headway in development.

The Dutch were never able to attract private capital to New Guinea because of the precarious political situation.

President Sukarno has laid elaborate plans, including an anti-literacy drive for all Papuans between the ages of 13 and 45.

Tiny Aden Joins Asian Federation

By SEAGHAN MAYNES
LONDON (Reuters)—Britain Thursday gave its approval to a union of its tiny colony of Aden on the tip of the Arabian peninsula with the neighboring federation of South Arabia.

But the government emphasized that the union plan should not affect British sovereignty over Aden or the British government's reserved powers.

A final communique issued at the end of nearly a month of secret talks here said the merger plan had been completed during the conference. Colonial Secretary Duncan Sandys informed ministers from Aden and the federation that their proposals were acceptable to the British government.

The communique also made clear that the linkup would not affect the "unfettered operation" of British defence installations in the colony, an important refuelling station on the sea lanes to the Far East.

The South Arabia federation and the colony minister had worked out in advance of the London talks a draft plan under which the 75-square-mile colony and its 220,000 inhabitants would enter the neighbouring federation of 11 Arab emirates or local kingdoms.

The communique said that subject to approval by the British Parliament and by the legislatures of the federation and Aden, the British government "would be willing to conclude a treaty with the federal government to effect entry of Aden into the federation."

ADEN (Reuters)—Spokesmen for Aden's two strongest political parties Thursday criticized the result of the Aden constitutional talks in London. The general secretary of the newly-formed People's Socialist Party, Abdul Alasani, who also leads the Aden Trades Union Congress, commented: "Our position has not changed. We called a successful general strike on July 23 in protest at the talks and we mean to maintain this policy."

All Mohammed Lugman, secretary-general of the People's Congress, the small but powerful intellectual party, said: "Our position is as clear as the fact that neither the federal council or the legislative council is representative enough to reach an agreement in this respect."

LETTERS to the Editor

To be considered for publication in whole or in part letters must be on subjects of general interest, and more than 200 words in length, and, if signed with a pen-name, must be accompanied by the writer's name and address.

Very little serious thought seems to have been given by the public in general or by those in authority, that the last frontier of complete lawlessness now lies in the international field only. Mankind's lack of an enforceable system of universal law is the basic reason for most of the national turmoil, futile controversy and the perpetuation of national hates...

An international law-enforcement agency is an indispensable condition for an enduring peace, for complete abolition of all national armies, navies and air forces, for unjust colonialism and all forms of national confederation by virtue of power.

When the desire for national aggression is made to be hopelessly futile, and the fear of belligerent attack is removed for ever, then and only then will our world have any claim to the term civilization.

Lightning-Blinded Boy Has Sight Restored

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A chipper but tired nine-year-old who was blinded by lightning returned home Wednesday with his sight restored. Bill Bradley, hit by a lightning bolt last April while trying out for second base on a pee-wee baseball team here, underwent operations at Houston, Tex., to remove cataracts.

"I didn't know this chair was blue," Bill said when the bandages were first removed.

"Ave yer got one that says 'Buzz off'?"

Japanese Enlarge Licences

TOKYO (UPI)—Japanese trucks and buses Thursday began carrying giant-size licence plates—16 1/2 inches by 9 inches—as part of a government crackdown on hit-run drivers. Police hope the new plates will make it easier for witnesses to an accident to note licence numbers.

Tongue-Lashing Added To Stiff Double Fine

Garry Harper, HMCS Skeena, was given a tongue-lashing and told he was lucky to escape a jail term, when he appeared before Magistrate William Ostler in Saanich police court yesterday.

He pleaded guilty to failure to remain at the scene of an accident and careless driving. On the first charge he was fined $250 and on the second $100. His licence was suspended for one year.

Court was told Harper struck a pedestrian and later returned to ask if the victim was dead. Defence counsel said the accused was unaware he had hit anyone until he saw a passenger bleeding in the face from flying glass.

A letter from Harper's superior officer attesting to his character was read to the court.

"There is scarcely a more cowardly and despicable thing you could do," said Mr. Ostler. "Because of your good record and character I'm not sending you to jail."

Pictures are worth a thousand words, but Charles Seaman, 1368 Courtland, didn't believe them when, in Saanich police court yesterday, he was shown pictures of junk he had allowed to accumulate on his property.

Warning, Then Fine, Jail

RCMP Cracking Down On Plateless Boats

The department of transport requirement of safety plates on small boats is now being enforced.

Inspector Kenneth Creaser, chief of RCMP marine service, reports that a warning will be issued the first time. But a $100 fine or two-month maximum jail term awaits those who fail to display safety plates after a warning.

The ruling, which went into effect July 1, requires boats 16 feet or less in length and carrying outboard motors of 10 horsepower or more to carry a plate which states the maximum capacity of the boat and horsepower recommended.

This applies to boats on fresh water lakes and rivers as well as on salt water, according to Insp. Creaser.

The registrar of shipping disclosed that about 2,000 applications had been handled by his office. The steamship inspection office reported 600 requests for forms.

There is no way of telling how many boats are affected by the new law, but 50,000 is a fair estimate of the number of small craft on the B.C. coast.

At the end of June, manager Bob Wright of Oak Bay Marina expressed the opinion that "probably fewer than 5 per cent of the boat-owners here" have the plates. He now says, "There has been a definite increase in the requests for forms during the last month and more boats are displaying these plates."

Application forms may be obtained at the ships clearance office of the customs department on Wharf Street, the registrar of shipping, 816 Government Street, the steamship inspection office in the Federal Building on Government Street, and the customs office in Sidney.

77 Teachers Preparing For Far Posts

OTTAWA (CP) — Seventy-seven secondary teachers from across Canada will be on the listening end at an unusual type of school being held at Macdonald College outside Montreal next week.

After school is out—Saturday, Aug. 25—they will disperse by air to far-away places.

The 77 have been chosen for teaching service in Asia, Africa and the Caribbean area under Canada's various economic assistance programs.

The "school" is a five-day briefing conference arranged by the external aid office to acquaint the teachers and their families with the countries and territories to which they have been assigned.

The teachers represent all the provinces except Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

Each gets his Canadian salary, a special allowance amounting to about 25 per cent of his salary, and return transportation.

Charm Working Overtime!

Prospective Residents Quiz Chamber

By HARVEY SHEPHERD

What has a Montreal liquor store worker in common with an Illinois dentist, an English gardener in Portland, Ore., and a farmer-steamfitter in New Mexico?

They are all thinking of moving to Victoria.

And they are among about 20 people who this year have written letters to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce with inquiries about moving permanently to Victoria.

ONLY BY REPUTATION

And the flood is just beginning, says J. R. Coppinger, Chamber-Commerce manager. He says letters arrive every year from people who have been here during their summer vacations, get home and begin thinking they'd rather live here.

Letters from such people, from retired and retiring people—some of whom only know of Victoria by reputation—and from others have arrived this year from such places as California, Florida, Missouri, Toronto, St. Laurent, Que., and Medicine Hat, Sask.

To judge by past years, a fair proportion of the retired will come to Victoria, says Mr. Coppinger. But only a few of those with jobs who came to Victoria and fell in love with the place will finally arrive here.

No one knows, for instance, whether the Belmont, Calif., man interested in a service station will come here. But his inquiry has been answered.

A Medicine Hat woman is interested in clerical work, substitute teaching and tutoring possibilities. A woman from St. Laurent, Que., wonders whether she could teach in—or found—a business college.

An Inglewood, Calif., couple would like to run a small store. A Missouri woman is interested in library work.

AVOID DISAPPOINTMENT

Other inquiries have come from Oak Park Ill., Adrian, Mo., and in California, Aptos, Ardenia, Chicago Park and Santa Barbara.

Mr. Coppinger says the chamber does not depict conditions as any better than they are. The chamber doesn't want people to pull up stakes, come to Victoria and be disappointed.

But what can you do with such enthusiasm as that of one English executive, with a wife and two teen-age children?

He wrote, from Long Beach, Calif.:

LEAVE RAT-RACE

"... We emigrated to Canada in 1955 and lived for two years near Toronto, Ont., before deciding that the climate there was a little too severe for us.

"Since 1957 we have been located in Long Beach, but I'm afraid, becoming more and more dissatisfied with the extreme pressures of life in this part of the world, the 'rat race,' as it is known locally.

"Just how much, though, we did not realize until visiting Victoria a couple of weeks ago when, for the first time in seven years, we both are homesick."

"Apart from the beauty of the island it was the obviously more relaxed atmosphere, the friendliness of everyone and, yes, I'll be honest, the 'Britishness' of it all that affected us so strongly..."

Sect Accused Of Terrorism

TRAIL (CP) — A United Church advisory committee on Doukhoboy affairs has accused the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors of using terrorist tactics to intimidate the government, public utility corporations, school boards, orthodox Doukhobors and the general public.

NOT RELIGIOUS

The United Church committee here issued an 800-word statement which said acts of terrorism, arson, dynamiting and violence—all of which have been attributed to Freedomite Doukhobors for years in the Kootenays of southern Interior B.C.—"cannot be termed religious or moral protests."

The committee's statement comes little more than a week after 70 members of the Sons of Freedom fraternal council were freed by magistrate's court on charges of conspiracy to intimidate the Parliament of Canada and the B.C. Legislature.

The advisory committee, which includes several ministers among its membership, states that Freedomites have thrown up "a smoke screen of innocence..." but our intimate experience with this group

Wakeham Wins Two; In Amateur 'Eights'

By HARRY YOUNG
Columnist Golf Writer

LONDON, Ont. — Bill Wakeham made a big step towards a place on Canada's World Cup team for Japan at the Sunningdale Club here Thursday when he reached the last eight of the Canadian amateur golf championship.

The Victoria golfer, suffering from a sick stomach, came through two tough matches in the second and third rounds and was one under par for the 34 holes he played. This was remarkable golf because Sunningdale was stretched out to the fullest extremities of its master for the first time in the competition, and the course was playing about 7,000 yards.

Despite this, Wakeham made most of the greens in regulation figures. This morning he made a 70, the lowest score of the day, and was one under par for the 34 holes he played. This was remarkable golf because Sunningdale was stretched out to the fullest extremities of its master for the first time in the competition, and the course was playing about 7,000 yards.

In the Commonwealth Games twice and is now on his way to the World Cup games at Japan, in which he captains the South African team.

Wakeham was the only British Columbia golfer to survive, for Johnny Johnston of Vancouver went out 3 and 2 in a keen match in the second round to Richard Siderowf, an experienced U.S. amateur.

Wakeham's second round rival was a stockily-built Ontario golfer from the Weston Club in Toronto in Tommy Woodall, and the match went to the 18th hole before Wakeham pulled through.

Wakeham won the first in par, but lost the seventh to an angle three and also the eighth to go one down to Woodall's par. Wakeham promptly countered with a deuce at the short ninth to even the match.

PREVIOUS LEAD
Wakeham won the 11th and 13th but lost the 12th and 14th holes. He won the 15th in par to go one up, and played the last three holes in par to preserve his one-hole lead.

In the afternoon, Wakeham came up against a provincial champion in Ron Piddler of Manitoba, and the Victoria star put off to a flying start by winning the first and sixth holes in birdies. He also birdied the fourth for a half.

At the long seventh Wakeham missed a four-footer for another win, but he won the ninth in three to go three up, and two under par 33.

LONG HITTER
Piddler, 30, a tall long-hitter from Winnipeg, kept himself in the game by winning the 11th in a birdie three but he became dormant four down after losing the 13th and 14th holes to par. Piddler got another back at the 15th where Wakeham made his first poor drive of the tournament and then pushed a long wood into a trap at the green.

The end came at the short 16th where Piddler picked up after failing to carry a gully in front of the green.

GREAT ACTUARY
Wakeham, who has been suffering from stomach troubles since Monday, played with great accuracy through the long day.

Taylor and Bob Wylie of Calgary, who have won his first three matches away out in the country, are regarded as the chief obstacles in the way of the young Victorian. Wylie won by 1 and 6 and by 6 and 3 in the afternoon and was four under par. The Albertan is hitting the ball extremely well, and could be a final rival for Wakeham for they are in opposite ends of the draw.

Calgary's big, blond Doug Silverberg must also be considered. He sidelined former champion and veteran Nick Westlock of Toronto, one up, in the third round. Westlock had beaten defending champion Gary Cowan, Kitchener, 3 and 2 in the morning match.

Today's Draw

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Draw for today's match round of the Canadian amateur golf championship:

UPPER HALF
Bill Wakeham, Calgary vs. Tom Woodall, Royal Oak, Ont.
Piddler, Winnipeg vs. Bob Wylie, Calgary

LOWER HALF
Pete Johnston, B.C. vs. Don Cherry, White Plains, Ont.
Reg Taylor, Johannesburg vs. Bill Wylie, Victoria

Pony Stars Bounce Back

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (Special) — Victoria's Carnarvon League all-stars bounced back brilliantly here last night and stayed in the running for the regional Pony League baseball championship with a 7-1 victory over Hawaii.

Beaten 3-1 by Walla Walla on Wednesday, Carnarvon got a five-hit pitching effort by Allan Hurst and made the most of their seven hits for the win they needed to avoid elimination.

Tonight at 8:30 they play Fort Lewis, which lost last night, 12-3, to Walla Walla. Loser of the Victoria-Port Lewis game will be eliminated.

Hurst struck out seven and walked only three in a fine performance. He gave up one run in the top of the fourth inning to cut the lead to 4-1, but Roger Halfide came through for him in great style in the bottom of the inning.

After Brian Craig singled, Halfide drove a pitch 290 feet over the left field wall for a two-run homer. Pete Songhurst walked, and Bob Pantan hit his second double of the night to drive in the final run.

Carnarvon got their first run in the second inning when Brian Greston was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second and third, and came in on an error.

In the third Al Semenchuck singled, Songhurst was safe on an error, and Pantan doubled for one run. Another error and a single by Ike McKay scored two more runs.

Twins' Rookie Beats Yankees with Single

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bernie Allen, Minnesota's rookie second baseman, topped a one-out single to left in the 10th inning Thursday, driving in the winning run as Twins beat American League leading New York 9-8.

The defeat cut Yankees' lead over second-place Los Angeles to 5½ games. Third-place Minnesota is 6½ back.

Chicago punished Cleveland half of the inning on Rich Rollins' run-scoring single. Frank Sullivan (3-4) got credit for the victory.

The combined pitching of Stan Williams and Ron Ferrarini and the hot bat of Doug Camilli sparked Los Angeles Dodgers to a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the National League, the peppy, eighth-place Chicago Cubs sidetracked pennant-chasing San Francisco 6-0 in the only day game.

Allen's game-winning single, his fourth hit, came off New York's Marshall Bridges and pinned the first loss on the Yankee left-hander, who has won six. The singled scored Bob Allison, who had walked, and took second on a sacrifice.

Twins had 7-4 lead going into the ninth. But little Bobby Richardson hit a two-out grand slam homer to give Yankees 8-7 lead.

Twins, however, tied it up against reliever Bridges in their

Transport Workers in Final

Transport Workers scored all the runs they needed in the first inning at Macdonald Park last night, and entered the Senior Amateur Baseball League final with a 5-2 victory over Naval Vets.

Victory gave them a 2-1 victory in the best-of-three semifinal and the right to play Eagles in a best-of-five final. But playoff plans are sketchy at the moment.

As league winner, Eagles get a bye into the B.C. final here on Labor Day. Transports, who finished second, have to travel up-island to play off for the second island berth in the tournament. At the moment it is not known whether that series will be held before the Eagles-Transports league play-off.

Vets opened with two runs in the first inning on an error and singles by Mike Hodges and Chuck Bennett. But Les Brice walked in the bottom of first. Gary Leibel singled. Barry Harvey was safe on an error, and Art Worth singled in two runs, leaving Harvey on third.

In Lacrosse Semi

Vancouver Two Up

NANAIMO (CP) — Vancouver took a 2-0 lead in their best-of-seven Inter-City Lacrosse League semi-final Thursday night defeating Nanaimo 12-5 in a fierce-checking contest.

After a close first half, with Vancouver leading 3-2, the speedy Vancouver club began to run down Nanaimo. Vancouver forwards had little trouble getting through the Nanaimo defence after that.

Wayne Pecknold, Bill Chisholm, Bob Bobcock and John Cervi each scored two goals to pace the Vancouver attack. Stu Smith and Wayne Shuttleworth scored the others.

Ed McDonald scored three of the Nanaimo goals, while Ted Liebh and Tom McVie got singles.

A total of 24 minutes in penalties was handed out, 12 minutes to each side.

Both goalies, Stan Joseph of Vancouver and Gerry Shires of Nanaimo, turned in good performances. Joseph stopped 28 and Shires 37.

Third game of the series will be played in Vancouver Saturday.

OUTDOORS
with Alec Merriman

One of the hottest fishing spots off Vancouver Island in recent weeks has been off Rock Bay, far north of Campbell River. . . and coho and "billions" of grise from there should soon be reaching Campbell River waters.

To get to Rock Bay, turn on to the Rock Bay Road, midway between Campbell River and Kelsey Bay and it is a 12.1-mile bumpy road to the beach, past Pys Lake, and Pye Creek and Pye slough. There are no launching facilities, but car-toppers and light trailer boats may be launched over the beach, although it is too steep to take a trailer.

Fish just off Rock Bay, or if the prevailing westerly wind is blowing, fish the lee of Thurlow Island and Chatham Bay. This is also a good small boat takeoff point for Stuart Island and Phillips Arm on the mainland.

Campbell River fishing has been spotty the last few days, although there are still a few coho about, and yesterday morning Tye Club president R. Jonquist of Mt. Vernon, Wash., captured a 48-pound tyee in the Tye Pool. Coho that are being caught 'in Campbell River waters appear to be migratory fish, on their way through, and the big local run is still to be anticipated.

Hester Brooks reports Shelter Point fishing "just fair." They have been getting them out in front of the beach, but not as many as they should be getting. . . and that is pretty well the story in that area, right down through Oyster Bay, Bates Beach, Little River, Cape Lazo and the Comox bell buoy.

Tyee in the Comox pool are few and far between, but this could change overnight with a good rain to attract the fish.

Deep Bay and Qualicum Bay have been producing well and Murray Cree of Qualicum Beach says "fishing this week has been fabulous. . . big springs and cohos, up to 12 pounds, on bucktails." Fishing has been good off Clayton's.

Hottest tyee spot on the Island has been the Alberni Inlet and Wednesday morning a 42-pounder was caught just off the Port Boat House, first to be landed at the top end of the Inlet.

Tyee are being landed in increasing numbers off Franklin River, Nahmint and China Creek, but so far this year you can't reach the China Creek waters by car. Following pilfering of some $3,000 worth of radio equipment, which was chopped off company trucks, MacMillan and Bloedel shut the access gates to the waterfront which was used for camping and boat launching. Watch for deadheads when boating at high speeds in the Inlet.

Active Pass, East Point and James Island waters have been producing well.

Severe closures imposed upon commercial fishermen, including rollers for the first time, should help sport fishermen, but sport fishermen should remember that if they act like hogs the restrictions might be extended to them.

All salmon commercial trolling from the Thrasher Rock (off Gabriola Island) waters to Active Pass waters has been stopped. Between Aug. 12 and Oct. 7, except when netting is allowed. Only one day of commercial fishing is anticipated for those waters next week.

Net fishing at the Bonilla Line, north of Port Renfrew at the entrance to Juan de Fuca was closed after one day this week, when two days were expected. What will happen next week is still under study, but at the most only two days will be allowed.

Fisheries officials report coho salmon were building up this week at the entrance to the Strait and appeared ready to start moving through. The commercial fishing closure should allow some to get through for sport fishermen in the Port Renfrew, Sooke, Pedder, Becher, Oak Bay and Saanichton waters.

Oak Bay has a good run of big tackle-busting springs off the back of Discovery and Chatham, but they appear gear shy and some of those who are getting them are going to light tackle. . . as light as 10-pound test leaders.

Saanichton Inlet and Victoria waterfronts are teeming with grise, but many of them are under the 12-inch limit and fisheries officials warn they will be undertaking extra patrols to check on underized catches.

Saanichton Inlet fishing has been spotty. There appears to be plenty of fish in the Inlet, but they are spread out all over the Inlet with no hot spot, unless it is the Bamerton in Mill Bay stretch.

Cowichan Bay is giving up good-sized springs in good numbers to moochers and rollers off the point at Genoa Bay, and coho which appear to be falling off a little the last day or two are being caught in the middle of the bay, mostly on Tom Macks or Strip Trappers.

Best freshwater fishing is in the Albernia where Stamp, Ash and China Creek are giving up summer steelies. Sprout and Great Central Lakes are good for trolling, and the Campbell River, Oyster River, Middle Quinsam and Upper Campbell/Battle Lakes are rated good. Wolfe Lake, just outside the Victoria waterfront, has been good.

Victoria Fish and Game Club holds merchandise trap shoot at the Goldstream grounds Sunday. The traps will now be open every Wednesday night for trap shooting practice and the Esquimalt Lagoon rifle range every Thursday night from 7 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

Chief game biologist Don Robinson will speak on game regulations and hunter safety at Monday night's fish and game meeting at Goldstream clubhouse, starting at 8 p.m.

Lions' Big Faults All Stamps Need

By JIM TANG
Columnist Sports Editor

VANCOUVER—B.C. Lions are an improved football club, but Calgary Stampers uncovered some glaring faults here last night that may be bad enough to make Vancouver fans wait another year for their big winner.

Stampers played these flaws to the fullest, and beat the Lions, 35-20, for their first victory in three starts in the Western Football Conference despite the fact that Lions got enough breaks to win.

A crowd of 30,145 fans at Empire Stadium, dreaming big dreams after Lions beat Saskatchewan 33-7 in the opener, saw their Lions take a real mauling from the hard-hitting Stampers.

Lions failed to give quarterback Joe Kapp the protection he needed, consistently had their corner linemen wiped out as Stampers made the outside plays work for big yardage, and showed a weakness in the middle of their defensive line that was fully exploited by Calgary.

Led by big Ernie Danjean, Stampers had Kapp running for his life most of the night, proving again that the best defence against the big pass is the big rush. That Kapp did as well as he did 112 of 25 for 129 yards was due to the fine was blocked but Bob Schloredt kicked for a single point to make it 7-0 at the quarter. Keeling hit Dillard for passes of 11 and 41 yards to set up Buchanan for a 20-yard end sweep for a touchdown, converted by Larry Robinson to tie it up. Before the half ended they marched 91 yards for a touchdown by Lunsford, and went to the dressing room with a 14-7 lead.

Lions were a better club in the second half, tied the score on a 70-yard march ended by a jump pass, Kapp to Clardige, and went ahead 17-14 as the quarter ended on a 13-yard field goal by Vic Kristopals.

But Walt Weaver picked off a pass by Kapp to go 40 yards to the Lions' 10-yard line, and Keeling went over three plays later. Convert made it 20-17.

Kristopals connected for a 27-yard field goal to cut it to 21-20, but Buchanan grabbed a lateral from Keeling just as the Calgary quarterback was hit, and scampered 86 yards for the touchdown that broke it open.

Keeling's last touchdown came as Lunsford went 64 yards up the middle, and carried twice more. Keeling took it over from the two-yard line.

Club's meet again Monday in Calgary.

Yardstick

Lions went 73 yards on seven plays for the first touchdown by Nub Beamer, set up by jaunts of 35 and 23 yards by Willie Fleming. Convert game to their initial victory this season.

They were tackling so hard that at one point early in the final quarter three Alouettes were racked up and sidelined on three successive plays.

Bill Smyth, Clair's assistant coach, went all the way with Lancaster at quarterback in something of a surprise, holding Ron Jackson on the bench.

Clair, suffering an acutely strained back, watched the game on television from an Ottawa hospital.

Don Clark admitted 85 yards around the right end for one Montreal touchdown and George Dixon added another on a two-yard buck over left tackle.

Betty Cole, Gayle Hitchens Clash in Women's Golf Semis

By GRAM COX

WINNIPEG (CP)—Four third girls Thursday qualified for the semi-finals of the Canadian women's open golf championship, led by the hostess, Betty Cole of Edmonton and Vancouver's Junior Gayle Hitchens. The two met in the 18-hole semi-final today while Colleen Smith of Vancouver and the five-time Alberta open champion, Rae Milligan of Calgary, met in the other half of the draw.

The qualifiers played through two 18-hole rounds during a hot and breezy day on Winnipeg's suburban Glendale Golf Club. Mrs. Cole scored a 4 and 2 victory over Winnipeg's Marlene Netterfield, going to the 10th hole after dropping a perfect 56-foot approach putt on the rolling par-five 15th hole for her only birdie of the round.

Cowdrey returned to England duty after illness Thursday to hammer 182 off the Pakistan attack as England built up a huge total of 406 for two on the first day of the fifth and final test cricket match at the Oval here.

Cowdrey played patiently through an early struggle to regain his form and then produced some good strokes as he and his captain, Ted Dexter, raced along neck and neck in a second-wicket stand of 248 in 165 minutes.

Cowdrey and Rev. David Sheppard were pinned down in the morning by the accurate Pakistan seam bowlers, but once Sheppard had gone after contributing 57 out of an opening stand of 117, runs flowed freely.

The Pakistan attack, already weakened by injuries earlier in the tour, was hampered by a leg injury to leg-spinner Intikhab Alam.

Close-of-play scores:
At Event Sussex 225 and 32 for 3; Surrey 208.
At Portsmouth Middlesex 268 for 3 declared and 67 for 4; Hampshire 201 for 3 declared.
At Leeds Match drawn, Royal Navy 374 and 136 for 5; Royal Air Force 248 and 136 for 5.
At Western Super Series Somerset 134; Warwickshire 117 for 1.
At Chesterfield Derbyshire 172 for 9 declared and 13 for 10; West Lancashire 215 for 3 declared.
At Bradford Gloucestershire 209 for 4 declared; Nottinghamshire 207.
At Chesham Lancashire 99 and 36 for 2; Gloucestershire 227 for 9 declared.

Bucks Sign Ken Laufman

PORTLAND (AP)—The Portland Buckaroos said Wednesday they have purchased Ken Laufman, a centre who played two years in the Eastern Amateur League.

Laufman, 29, led the league in scoring last year with 128 points on 38 goals and 90 assists.

A two-year veteran with the Johnstown Jets, Laufman played on the 1960 Canadian Olympics team.

Miss Hitchens, who earlier scored a second-round 3 and 3 win over Winnipeg's Heather Lawrence on a three-under-par first nine that included four birdies, was equally brilliant against Winnipeg's Mary Homenick in the afternoon round, winning 3 and 4.

Miss Smith dropped a 25-foot par-five putt on the 17th to defeat Joanne Riddell of Montreal 3 and 1 and move on to meet the fourth Westerner in the championship, Miss Milligan, who defeated Toronto's sharp-shooting Key Heiler 2 and 1.

All the winners said they were tired after the long 36 holes over the 6,588-yard course. Mrs. Cole said she was tired on the 18th. Then she relaxed and started hitting the ball. Before then, she said, she had been spraying her shots to either side of the fairway.

FRAMES OPPONENT Miss Hitchens was relieved about her game, but her opponent, Mrs. Homenick, was full of praise for the 1961 junior champion and 1961 open finalist. "I can't feel sorry about losing to her today. She's just playing beautifully. Nobody could have beaten her out there today."

In the second round, played Thursday morning, Mrs. Cole, 1957 open champion, defeated Lou Evans of Toronto 3 and 2 while Mrs. Netterfield handed United States junior champion Mary Lowell of Hayward, Calif. a 1 and 1 loss.

Mrs. Homenick defeated 1961

Canadian women's alone champion Janet MacWha of Vancouver 3 and 2; Miss Smith bounced Gail Harvey of Toronto 6 and 5; Miss Riddell defeated Ann Tashan of Winnipeg 3 and 1; Miss Heiler defeated Gale Jamison Lee of Edmonton 3 and 1 and Miss Milligan defeated Barbara Rannick of Vancouver 3 and 1.

The winners of today's matches go into a 36-hole final Saturday to declare the 1962 Canadian champion.

Leonard Beats Par

VANCOUVER (CP)—Stan Leonard, playing his first home-town tournament in four years, left the field well behind him with a three-under-par 69 in the first round of the $5,000 B.C. Open golf championship here Thursday.

The 47-year-old touring professional was the only one of the field of 51 pros and 89 amateurs to break par on the exacting 6,915-yard Shaughnessy golf course.

Tied for second place, three strokes back with par 72s, were defending champion Bob Duden of Portland, Bill Thompson of Vancouver, Norm Boden of Chemainus, B.C., and amateur Doug Bajus of Vancouver.

Following them at 73 were Spokane pro Rod Farneth and another amateur, hockey star Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers.

Chuck Congdon, 50-year-old Tacoma, Wash., veteran seeking his seventh open title, faltered on the back nine to slip to a 74 from the course record 67 he fired Wednesday in a pro-amateur event.

Boden was far ahead of other Vancouver Island golfers. Roy McLean of Alberni, the only other Island pro entered, skied to a 93 to tie with Victoria amateur Charles Gordon. Alberni amateurs Bud Kieckbusch and L. Zaharoff did a little better with 90 and 87 respectively.

Day at Fair

—Only $20

If you live on southern Vancouver Island, you can see most of the World's Fair in a day for less than $20—including the return trip to Seattle. It involves getting up early, but it's well worth it.

If you take the 6 a.m. ferry from Victoria to Port Angeles, and travel by bus or private car by way of the Hood Canal Floating Bridge and the Winslow ferry, you'll arrive at the fair grounds around 11 a.m. To make it to Port Angeles in time for the 8:30 p.m. Victoria ferry—last of the day—you leave Seattle between 4 and 4:30 p.m.

That leaves you a good five hours at Century 21—enough time to see most of the musts and develop a good set of sore feet.

Cost is surprisingly low. A Colonist reporter did it Sunday for $16.55. Combined boat-bus fare was $10.95. Admission to the fair was $2 plus 75 cents for two trips on the monorail from downtown Seattle. The rest was spent on food, which can be bought at reasonable prices in restaurants which don't revolve every hour high atop a space needle.

Rumors that fair operators are fleeing visitors left and right are unfounded. Most expensive part of the excursion was the boat trip to Port Angeles, where food costs were relatively high and Canadian money was discounted 10 per cent instead of the accepted eight.

Canadian funds were accepted at par at entrances to the fair.

Century 21 is a mixture of superb science exhibits and exciting international displays with hot dog stands and a gateway which one could see at the PNE or CNE.

There are sections of the fair the day excursioner can skim through or miss completely without cause for concern.

A highlight of the world's fair is the Swedish Alweg monorail which whisks you from an ultra-modern station elevated above an attractive mall in downtown Seattle to the fairgrounds—more than a mile away—at 40 and 50 miles an hour.

After this glimpse of the urban transportation of the future, you stand at the foot of the 650-foot space needle, which you won't ascend unless you want to wait in line from 1½ to two hours—a luxury the day-tripper can't afford.

Equally long lines will probably prevent you from taking the trip by glass sphere into the world of tomorrow, or touring the Ford Motor Company pavilion.

Highlights of the fair you shouldn't miss are the giant U.S. science pavilion, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration building, the Washington State coliseum, the international displays—including Canada's preview of Century 21 life in the north—the Food Circus, and the railways' Transport 21 exhibit.

You'll come away from Century 21 impressed, dazzled and, perhaps, a little frightened of the world of tomorrow.

Ganges, Parksville Both Plan Derbies For This Weekend

Salt Spring Island and Parksville fish and game clubs will hold fishing derbies this weekend.

The Salt Spring derby will be held Sunday with weigh-in at Ganges at 5 p.m. and it will be restricted to waters adjacent to Salt Spring Island. There will be 24 prizes and a consolation prize of a $100 gift certificate, as well as a prize for the heaviest cod.

The Parksville derby will run both Saturday and Sunday and Bill Hazeldine and Sam Gough are committee members in charge.

All salmon caught in the two derbies may also be entered in The King Fisherman Contest, provided they are five pounds or more.

Douglas Parking Ban Killing Small Shops

Three Saanich merchants have been forced to close shop because of the recently erected no-parking signs along Douglas Street. Angry owners say others may have to follow suit.

The signs went up Wednesday in four blocks between Tolmie and Saanich Road, and so did the tempers of merchants.

Saanich signs were posted after formal action was threatened by J. Everett Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs and chairman of the Capital Improvement District Commission, if the delay persisted.

SIX LANES PLANNED

As yet only Saanich has complied. The signs were due to go up July 1 between Saanich Road and the Roundabout. CIDC allocated $175,000 to beautify the approach to the city on condition the ban go into effect in Victoria and Saanich. Six lanes of traffic were to be created.

The general feeling of frustration was summed up by L. N. G. Rusk, owner of Rusk's Grocery, 3214 Douglas. "I'll kill off all the small businesses along here."

THREE FORCED OUT

Mr. Rusk said he knew of three businesses forced to close as a direct result of the ban.

Mrs. David Cooper, partner with her husband in Dave Cooper Plumbing and Heating and a business block at 3293 Douglas, said: "We're going to ignore it. If they give me a ticket I'll tear it up."

She said "at least 30 per cent" of the business would be gone.

REDUCING PROGRAM

"We've been in business here 20 years. All of a sudden they take our business away. This beautification program is ridiculous. They say they are doing it for the tourists. What about us who live here. It doesn't make sense."

Clay Bruce, owner of Bruce's Pharmacy at 3220 Douglas, who spent $5,000 remodeling his store last year, said he will either "collapse or have to move." Meanwhile, he has improved and enlarged his parking lot at the rear of his store. "I depend on passing traffic for one-third to one-half of my business. Every nickel I have is in this business. When people see they can't park they just won't stop," he complained.

UNLIMBED WITH CIRCLE

Mr. Bruce said he saw no reason for six lanes of traffic because the Roundabout is a "bottleneck."

Also dependent on transient traffic is Martin Lee, owner of Lee's Grocery at 3287 Douglas. He estimated more than 25 per cent of his business to be off the curb.

"People won't pull off on a side street," he said. "They'll just keep going until they find a place where they can stop."

Ron Blenden will have to fire some of his staff if the expected drop in business comes about.

Owner of Clark's Auto and Truck Parts, he said losses may go as high as 50 per cent. "They would be giving us a chance if they banned parking during morning and evening rush hours."

Stan Chu, part owner of the Hong Kong Restaurant at 3214 Douglas, said his business will be affected.

IN ONE EAR
Harry's Grocery across from Lee's is already empty. The owner moved to Oak Bay, said Mr. Lee, because he believed the parking ban would kill his business.

The affected merchants have not formally organized to fight the ban. They appeared in body twice before Saanich council but "I went in one ear and out the other," said Mr. Rusk.

Cause and effect stand side by side at 3268 Douglas where no parking signs are said to be forcing merchants out of business. Harry's Grocery stands empty.—(Colonist photo.)

Professional Help Offered Jaycees In Tourism Probe

B.C. government officials yesterday offered the services of a Vancouver advertising agency to help the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce plan a probe on tourism needs for Vancouver Island.

Other civic officials heartily endorsed the Jaycee plan to ask outgoing tourists what they liked or disliked about their visit to the Island.

BEST ANSWER

Government support came from Recreation and Conservation Minister Earl Westwood, who offered professional assistance in drafting a questionnaire for the tourists.

If the Jaycees care to bring around a rough draft of the questions they intend to ask, "our advertising agency will be glad to give it a once-over to help insure that the best possible questions are asked," said the cabinet minister.

'COACH' NEEDED

Lack of expert guidance on a survey such as the Jaycees plan to start next week would be like trying to play soccer or basketball without a coach, he said.

Jaycee president Eric Charman said he will certainly inquire about the offer.

Acting Mayor Arthur Dowell said "anything the Jaycees can do to promote tourism will be welcome." But he thought creation of a tourist development board as suggested by the Jaycees would be duplication of effort because the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau is "doing a good job as is."

HEALTHY STEP

Chamber of Commerce president A. E. Walters said "the questionnaire is a healthy step forward. Tourism is our number one industry and will be for a number of years to come."

He seemed to favor the development board idea. Promotion of the Island will take "a concerted effort. Our energy should not be divided. It should be concentrated in one body governing the whole endeavor and control of funds."

ALL FOR SURVEY

Mayor Jack Dobson of Duncan said "I'm all for the survey. It's an excellent idea and our group will co-operate in any way we can."

He was a strong booster of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau but felt it should extend its publicity efforts further afield, towards eastern Canada.

Every effort should be made to spend "as much as we can afford" on releases to all forms of media, including newspapers, magazines, radio and TV stations, in addition to sending literature to persons inquiring about the Island, said Mayor Dobson.

MUST CREATE

The publicity bureau should handle external advertising to bring the tourists here and parochial groups should create attractions in their own areas for the tourists who arrive.

Duncan had a poor tourist season this year, "but I blame our own area. If we sit here and wait for them to come, we'll sit here forever. We've got to create attractions."

Kiwanians Honor Victoria Chinese

Well-known Victoria Chinese, Jack Lee, has been named Kiwanis lieutenant-governor for Vancouver Island.

Mr. Lee is immediate past president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club and has been a member for many years.

His district will include the whole of Vancouver Island, along with Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Powell River.

Cy Williams is now president of the Victoria club.

Taxed to Limit Moans Farmer On Blenkinsop

A Saanich farmer upset about being taxed $64 per month for the privilege of living in his own home, said yesterday he may have to sell and take up farming somewhere else.

"I didn't sleep the night I got my tax notice," said Alexander Olson, 4251 Blenkinsop. "My taxes were $772—$191.70 higher than last year."

"When it costs $64 per month to live in your own home that's going a little too far. If I can't get an adjustment on my assessment I'll have no alternative but to try and sell the place and move out to unorganized territory to start another farm," he said.

OTHERS IN TROUBLE?
Mr. Olson, clutching his 1961 and 1962 tax notices in his hand, came to the Colonist yesterday "because I'm wondering if any other Saanich taxpayers are having the same trouble I am."

He said he bought 30 acres of farmland off Blenkinsop in 1951 and built his own home and barns there. He raises horses and cattle and grows hay and oats to feed the animals.

But, apparently because he had a job other than farming, several years ago the land was reclassified from farming to residential, with a subsequent boost in taxation, said Mr. Olson.

REACHED LIMIT
"Saanich taxes have been going up and up, but this year they reached a limit where they were so high you can't afford to live in your own house."

"I bought the property with the intention of doing farming on a small scale. But I have to hold down another job because you can't make a living on a 30-acre farm."

"Yet they won't let the land be classified as farming, because I'm working as a farm auctioneer."

Mr. Olson said he paid his $772 taxes, less the home-owner's grant, Wednesday, but that he did so under protest.

Man Jailed For Slashing

Slashing a drinking companion on the face with a broken beer glass has cost a Victoria man a year of his freedom.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas imposed the Oakalla term on Frederick Morry, 705 Pandora, for assaulting Grigoris Rusanovs, 331 Vancouver, in the washroom of the Drake Hotel.

Morry told the magistrate that he wanted to take a wedding course in Nanaimo.

"Your past record and your present vicious attack leave me no alternative but to send you to Oakalla for your training," the magistrate said.

In Critical Condition

Elderly Woman Struck by Car

Mishap At Corner

An elderly woman, hit by a north-bound car as she crossed the intersection of Cook and Rockland last night, was in critical condition in St. Joseph's Hospital early this morning.

Injuries to Mabel Saunders, 70, of 1151 Rockland, were listed as two broken legs, a possible fractured skull and undetermined internal injuries.

CUT DIAGONALLY

Driver of the car involved in the accident at 10:45 p.m., was Henrietta Clayton, 9 Moss. She told police the elderly pedestrian was cutting diagonally across the intersection at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Clayton was driving to Clovelly Hospital, 1196 Clovelly Terrace, at the time of the mishap. The pedestrian, she said, walked directly into the car.

DIMLY LIT STREET

Police said there were no other witnesses.

Residents in the immediate area told Colonist reporters the corner was dimly lit, visibility is poor at night and other accidents of a less serious nature have occurred there frequently.

LIVED ALONE

Miss Saunders has lived alone in a suite on Rockland Avenue for the past four years. She has no relatives living in the city.

Neighbors said she had just returned from a trip to England.

Crash Due To Spider

CHENNAI—A spider was responsible for a freak accident near the Red Rooster Cafe on the Trans-Canada Highway, involving a B.C. Hydro truck.

The spider fell off the cab's roof into the eye of driver Derek Cook of Duncan, blinding him momentarily. The truck swerved off the road and landed in a ditch. Police estimated the damage at $300.

'Village' Salutes Victoria

Oak Bay's Village Fair, scheduled for Sept. 14 and 15, will salute Victoria's centennial this year.

Decision on whether Oak Bay council will participate in the venture is expected today. George Robbins, chairman of the board of trade, said yesterday the board is open to any ideas and hopes the fair will be used by council to make an official goodwill gesture to Victoria.

Plans call for rides for children, stalls to line village sidewalks, an open-air auction and public dancing both evenings at the Club Tango with 1962 costumes a must.

Also being investigated is the possibility of staging a provincial horseshoe-pitching championship.

Thieves Loot Church Box
An undetermined amount of money was stolen when thieves broke into the church box at St. Andrew's Church Hall on Courtney Street some time Wednesday. The theft was discovered yesterday.

Tilikum Brings Tears to Tourist

A dugout canoe that battered its way for 48,000 miles across the oceans of the world, sometimes to cast a shadow over the life of a woman who came to the city yesterday.

The daughter of Captain John Chas. Voss—Mrs. B. F. Kuhn of Portland, Ore.—puts it this way:

"I always cry when I see the Tilikum. I can just see my father standing in it. He was a kind, wonderful man." (See picture on Page 17.)

It was in the Tilikum that Captain Voss left Victoria May 27, 1908 and with only one seaman navigated the Pacific, Indian and Atlantic Oceans. It took three years, three months and 10 days for the trip from Victoria to Margate, England.

She was a young girl at the time her father was making his 48,000-mile world trip in the dugout canoe, which now rests in Thunderbird Park.

As Carrie Voss she attended St. Ann's Academy and lived in Victoria until she was 19. With her husband, B. F. Kuhn, she is revisiting some of the scenes of her childhood.

She recalls how she and her brothers, Harry and Jack, used to go fishing in the Inner Harbor and she can remember the wooden bridge that was replaced by the Causeway. Harry went to South America and Jack to Alaska. Both are dead now and she is the last of the family.

She remembers her father's hotel days in Victoria, when he leased the Queen's at Johnson and Store, and the Hotel Victoria, at Government and Johnson. She speaks of his trips to Cocos Island and Japan.

Mrs. Kuhn was touched to find the canoe in such good condition.

Captain Voss had left the Tilikum in England. It was finally salvaged from Galea Creek, Curvey Island, in the estuary of the Thames near Southend. It was returned to Victoria in 1959.

Put In Potatoes

Commented John McLeod, standing in his potato patch:

"I'm comfortable here. You can heat this place with a can of paper in the stove."

When I got here it was all weeds. I spaded it and put in potatoes. Fourteen years ago.

"All I have is $65 a month. How can I pay rent out of that? One man who used to live here, he's in a home, and he's paying $100 and something a month. But then, he's a man who has money."

The pensioners' reluctance to move indicates a demand by old people for low-rental housing.

Standing in the way of low-priced building are municipal regulations that order minimum floor areas and other standards.

Outside organized municipalities, standards are less severe.

Mrs. Charles Watmough of Cushman Lake, Salt Spring Island, has no vacancies in any of her 25 cabins which she rents to pensioners at prices from $10 to $16 a month.

"Make a profit on them? I don't. It's a hobby with me. This year I was out of pocket. But I put in fridges and washing machines and oil stoves."

"Maybe some people could build cabins and run them at a profit with rents like these."

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is 21 years old. She has a very good job and lives at home. Her boy friend (age 23) has not worked for three months. He says he can't find anything but I don't believe he wants to find anything. My husband lined up two job appointments for him and he didn't keep either of them.

This boy does not get along with his parents so he practically lives at our house. He has dinner here seven nights a week and on Sunday he's here for breakfast.

I'm scared to death our daughter might marry this shiftless lout. She seems to be crazy about him. There are many attractive, employed fellows who'd like to take her out but she won't look at them. Why would a good looking girl go for a dud like this when she could do so much better?

—BAFFLED PARENTS.

Dear Baffled: One reason occurs to me: Her parents keep telling her he's a jerk, and she's determined to prove to them that she can and will do as she darned well please.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son is 24 years old, a college graduate, handsome, a fine athlete, and is now a junior executive in an excellent firm.

Jeff was always respectful and a source of pride to his father and me—until he got mixed up with a girl he met at work seven months ago. She comes from a very ordinary family, has no education to speak of and I am embarrassed when she opens her mouth. Her conversation is a string of clichés, such as "Gee, I'll say," or "You said it." Everything is "fabulous" or "out of this world."

Jeff always went with lovely, refined girls and I'm at a loss to understand what he sees in this little nothing. I've tried to tell him in a motherly way that this girl is not right for him—that in his business he'll need a wife who can mix well and be an asset.

He gets a set look on his face whenever I bring up the subject and doesn't say one word. I would appreciate any advice you can offer.

—ONLY A MOTHER.

Dear Only: Please see the above letter and my reply. It's the same song—with a little different twist.

Dear Ann Landers: How can we help our lovely daughter who married beneath herself in spite of our warnings? She is 27, has three small children and a lazy, no-good husband.

Although she has plenty of work of her own to do she has started a catering service in her home. She works past midnight baking and cooking and then gets up at the crack of dawn to do her laundry and cleaning. Her husband has a part-time job and makes her deliveries.

It breaks our hearts to see this lovely girl work so hard. She is thin and tired-looking and we worry that her health might break. We've tried to talk her into giving up the catering work but she insists she is happy and that she enjoys the work.

We've offered to take her and the children into our home if she'll divorce that bum, but her pride keeps her from admitting that she made a mistake. What can we do to help?

—HEARTBROKEN PARENTS.

Dear Parents: If you really want to help, leave her alone and stop making offers to break up her home. It may be that she is happy and that you are mistaken.

On the other hand, if the girl is trying to make the best of a less than perfect situation you would be doing her a kindness by pretending not to notice.

Margaret Jones Bride Of Mr. Edwin G. Beck

PORT ALBERNI, B.C. — Summer flowers decorated First United Church for the Saturday wedding of Margaret Gail Jones and Edwin Gilbert Beck.

Rev. J. D. Verkerk conducted the ceremony for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Henry Jones, Port Alberni, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gilbert Beck, Nanaimo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a full length gown of white nylon chiffon over taffeta fashioned with bell skirt, slight train, lily point sleeves and a scooped neckline. Chiffon bows edged the cummerbund and caught the inverted front pleat of the skirt. Traditional orange blossoms held her tiered bouffant veil.

Mrs. Marion Spilbury was matron of honor, Miss Shirley Lund and the bride's sister, Miss Carolyn Jones, bridesmaids. Little Debbie Dinsdale, dressed in white and carrying a basket of shasta chrysanthemums, was flower-girl.

Senior attendants were in peacock blue dulled satin and lace fashioned with bell skirts, scooped necklines and elbow sleeves. Their bouquets were of white chrysanthemums.

Trevor Jones and Robert Beck, brothers of the principals, shared ushering duties, while William Beck, another brother of the groom, was best man.

Greenwood Hotel's Continental Room was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums for the wedding reception.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Ralph Swanson, uncle of the bride.

Leaving on the wedding trip the bride wore a costume of navy silk shantung sheath with tiered skirt, navy accessories, a fur stole and a white corsage.

Out-of-town guests included friends and relatives from Lechbridge, Hines Creek, Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver, Penikese, Victoria, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and White Salmon.

Special guests were Mrs. Pearl (Van) Gladden of White Salmon, who, 65 years ago, had been flower girl at the wedding of the bride's grandmother, and her daughter, Mrs. Beverly (Allan) Dinsdale, who had been flower-girl at the wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Jones, close to 25 years ago. They are the grandmother and mother, respectively, of Debbie, the flowergirl at Saturday's ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Beck will make

Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacLean and family of Ucluelet are spending their holidays visiting southern California and Mexico. On their way home they will visit the World's Fair, Master Douglas MacLean is visiting relatives in the East.

VOW Says

Information Confusing

MONTREAL (CP)—The Voice of Women, an organization campaigning for nuclear disarmament, said today the emergency measures organization is misleading the public on the subject of shelters.

In a statement described as an open letter to Prime Minister Diefenbaker, the VOW said the latest addition to the booklet series Blueprint for Survival contains recommendations for shelters supposed to offer some protection against a five-megaton blast.

Such recommendations, "in a world that contains 100-megaton weapons equivalent to 100,000,000 tons of TNT and where the effects of even lesser weapons, particularly if used in massive attacks, cannot be known to the emergency measures organization, will only delude and confuse Canadians."

The VOW statement said "the deception is particularly cruel because only one or two Canadian families could afford to build the so-called shelters. "A blueprint for survival for those few who can afford it seems to be a callous affront to the fears of the average Canadian family."

CWL on Abortion:

Act Is Murder

By EDNA BLAKELY
HALIFAX (CP)—The Catholic Women's League of Canada Wednesday deplored reported requests for legalized abortions for women who have taken drugs which might cause deformities in the expected child.

The resolution, adopted by delegates at the league's 42nd annual meeting here, noted that "many favor terminating pregnancy by abortion in cases in which it is probable the child will come into the world deformed."

The resolution said "abortion is murder, no matter what the condition of the living fetus may be."

Delegates commended the federal government for its proffered assistance to parents of malformed babies. Another resolution asked the government to delay granting approval of new drugs until they are thoroughly tested and declared safe.

The resolution referred to deaths believed caused by a birth control pill and pills taken during early pregnancy which have been blamed for malformation of babies' limbs.

Both resolutions passed with discussion.

OBJECT TO OBSCENITY
Delegates expressed pleasure at the CBC's special Easter week programs but objected to "an increasing tendency toward obscene matter and profane language in television produced in Canada."

At an earlier session, the league adopted a recommendation from radio, television and films convener, Mrs. A. V. Svoboda of Winnipeg, that monitoring committees be named at the parish level to monitor radio and television programs and announcements.

Mrs. Svoboda explained later the committees were meant to look for good programs and not merely to serve as critics.

Delegates resolved to strive for better reading material on newsstands and particularly in C.W.L. members' homes.

The league will ask the industry to "improve the manner in which the moral structure of our Christian and democratic way of life is portrayed by a better selection of subject in films."

League members agreed to urge that adoption legislation "which respects the religious rights of the children be strictly adhered to."

The resolution noted that provincial adoption procedures ignoring religious rights would be discriminatory and would violate "inalienable rights and God given gifts."

MRS. STEVENS NAMED
HALIFAX (CP)—Mrs. Hermon Stevens, a former alderman of Calgary, Wednesday was elected president of the 146-member Catholic Women's League of Canada.

She succeeds Marguerite Burns of Halifax, now national past president.

The new president, an editor with a law publishing firm in Calgary, has been a member of the league since 1935. She's a former provincial president and has served on the national executive since 1947.

Vice-presidents elected at the final business session of the league's 42nd annual meeting here include Mrs. A. A. Boucher, Vancouver, and Mrs. V. Fabris, Winnipeg.

Treasurer is Mrs. H. F. Grainger, of Regina.

Bride Says Family of 18 'A Challenge'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A chemist and a nurse have been married on the University of Notre Dame campus assembling a merged family of 18.
The bridegroom, Dr. Kay A. Young, head of the chemistry department at King's College, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was a widower with 12 children, three to 19 years old.
The bride, Mary A. Treacy, 38, was a professor's widow with four children, six to nine.
"I think it's wonderful," said daughter Cecilia, 17, one of the two young children who came here for the wedding.
The bride said Wednesday she expects the family of 18 to be "a challenge."
"I have no hesitation at all," said the bridegroom. Both said they want more children.
The couple met this summer while Dr. Young was at Notre Dame as a guest lecturer. However, he had been a friend of the bride's first husband, Dr. John Clement Treacy, while the men were taking graduate study at Notre Dame, and there had been correspondence between the families.
Treacy, an assistant professor of chemical engineering at Notre Dame, was killed in 1955 when an explosion destroyed a rocket test cell in which he was working on the campus.
Dr. Young has a 19-room house for his big family.

This all day affair is to take the form of a basket picnic—bring your own food. There will be coffee, tea and hot water available—and tea will be served between 2 and 4:30 p.m. Also hot dogs and ice cream will be sold on the grounds.

Bridal Jewelry Heirloom Pearls

The wedding of Georgia Lyn Neale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Neale of Ladysmith and Mr. Donald W. Rendle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rendle, 1640 Kisher Avenue, was solemnized recently in Central Baptist Church. Rev. Robert Holmes officiated.
The bride, given away by her father, was lovely in a white floor length gown of nylon and lace with sequin embroidered neckline. Her net and lace veil was held by a tiara of pearls and she wore a pearl necklace which had been given to the groom's mother by his grandmother. The bridal bouquet was a spray of pink Delight roses.
Sharon Neale, bridesmaid for her sister, wore a ballerina length pink nylon dress with tiara to match and carried a nosegay of roses.
Ian Rendle was best man for his brother.
During the signing of the register the Wedding Prayer was played by Miss Phyllis Hick at the organ.

Risk in Compost

By M. V. CHENNY, FRAS

We haven't had too many good heating days this summer, when you could count on enough scorching sun to wilt the scuffed-off weeds before they could re-emerge and reinsert their roots in the soil. This has involved us in a lot of extra back-breaking work hand-pulling the rows and beds.

In the vegetable plot and where flowers are growing in rows, my favorite implement is a rather narrow Dutch hoe, which looks like a stirrup carrying a forward-facing blade. This is a grand and easy-to-use tool for scuffing off weeds in dryish soil but, when the ground is wet, the older draw or swan-neck hoe comes into its own.

With this one, the weeds are chopped out, and in wet weather, they must be raked off. Unfortunately, quite a lot of precious topsoil gets raked off along with the weeds, and it is best that all this mess gets tamped down to the compost heap so all of it can be returned to the garden eventually.

This brings up a point which has often puzzled me: The compost enthusiasts and the books on "natural" gardening all insist that enough heat is generated in a compost heap that weed seeds, disease spores and insect pests and eggs are all destroyed, and the resulting compost comes out as clean as a whistle. If so much heat is generated, how is it that earthworms abound in a compost heap? And why do narrow and cucumber plants thrive when planted on a compost heap—wouldn't their roots get scorched?

Either my compost heaps are not behaving according to Hoyle, or the degree of heat generated in the heaps has been greatly exaggerated. In any case, I don't put diseased material, weed seeds or couch grass roots in my compost, for I don't think they would be killed.

As is customary around this time of year, I have been getting quite a few letters lately reporting patches of toadstools springing up in the lawn. As Dr. Adam Szwedinski, the provincial botanist, has so often said, many of these fungi are edible, and probably the easiest way to get rid of them is to eat them—after checking first, of course, to make sure you don't have a poisonous variety.

When these fungi spring up suddenly in a fairly localized patch, you can suspect the presence of rotting wood somewhere below the sod. Dead roots may be to blame—possibly a tree was cut down in that spot some year previously. With such localized patches, it is a good idea to do a little probing with a crowbar and, if you hit rotting wood, lift the sod and dig it out. Fill the hole with fresh topsoil before repaying the sod but don't use very rich soil or the grass will green up in such a way as to stand out against the rest of the lawn.

When the distribution of the fungi in the lawn is more widespread, they are most likely due to an excess of organic material—leaving the mowings on the lawn. This is common practice nowadays with the rotary power mower. Simply rake off the toadstools and drench the affected portions with Panogen Turf Spray or Ortho Lawn Fungicide.

Money Encrusts Charm

TORREMOLINOS, Spain — Five years ago (six? ten?) this was a sleepy little fishing village with all the charming poverty which so entrances visitors from America. Bullocks pulling watercarts through the streets. Fishermen fishing in their adorable little boats, their lights twinkling through the darkness all night long. (A 20-hour day is tough on the fishermen, but gee, it's picturesque.)

Word of all this unbearable charm—the bullocks in the street, the quaint fishermen's houses, the twisted streets—spread throughout Western Europe, bringing rich Swedes, rich Germans, not so many rich French because they have their own quaint spots to overrun, but rich Americans, and rich English. The charm began to be heavily encrusted with money. Property values began to rise and the charm began to dwindle.

Ten years ago, you could rent a house here for $5 a month, they'll tell you. That is, those who were here 10 years ago, if those can find any such. Today you are more likely to pay $250 a month for something overlooking the sea—still low next to what you would pay on the Riviera or Westhampton—but beginning to approach the values (if values is the word for it) of the abundant society.

The bullocks are fast vanishing to be replaced by Mercedes. The fishermen are still out there, their wonderful lights twinkling most of the night, but the prices of their delicious fish are rising and soon, also, they won't have to work all night to earn a living and the lights will disappear. Two years ago, servants here were $8 a month. Today they are $25 a month and for that they only work from 7 a.m. until they put away the last dish after dinner. Maybe 11 p.m. Another couple of years and the abundant age will really catch up to them. They'll be demanding a day off, for Pete's sake, and maybe up to $40 a month in wages.

That's the trouble with prosperity; everybody wants to share it and it makes things very tough on the people who got here first when things were so cheap and so quaint and life was difficult only for the poor Spaniards.

When did the charm of Torremolinos began to dwindle? That depends on when you got here. I think it's still pretty nice.

"You should have seen it two years ago," the old hand tells me. (Or five years. Or ten years ago, depending on when he got here.) "That street wasn't there, then. That street is now a shopping street, full of gift shops, laden with handbags, scarves, beach towels, tableware, jewelry, all the expensive bric-a-brac of civilization. What was there before? People mostly. In quaint houses."

Last night, I went to a farewell party for a house. It's a beautiful old Spanish house surrounded by a high white wall covered with purple bougainvillea, with its ordered inside court of date palms and reflecting pools. The rooms are magnificently proportioned, high ceilings, thick walled, and cool. And it's going to be torn down for an immense and modern and lucrative hotel. Ah, woe!

A year from now, I'll be telling a newcomer: "You should have seen the house that stood where that hotel is. Most beautiful gardens! And they tore it all down to make that awful hotel! It's a desecration."

Cleopatra Fare $10?

LONDON (NANA)—20th-Fox is planning to ask $10 for first-run tickets to "Cleopatra." In my opinion they could get half, but who will pay that much to see a film?

With TV coming to Spain on a more or less regular basis, lots of people bought into the belief that the bullfights would be televised. And rushed to return them, when the matadors refused to appear on video. . . . Spain is still a movie country. And no picture is too bad to keep the customers away, I remember when America was like this.

Vince Edwards, Doctor Casey, who is now receiving $175,000 for his role in "The Victors," for Carl Foreman, started life as a "strong" man, with hair dyed blond. The girls are waiting for him in London where he is the No. 1 TV favorite.

Ingrid Bergman won't work in the summer no matter how tempting the picture. Daughter Jenny has been visiting Ingrid and husband Lars Schmidt on their island off the Swedish coast where they fish and laze the days away. At this point in the summer I envy them, and this will be my last column before my vacation.

Brodie Crawford was visiting some friends in Madrid, and about midnight tried to leave. The gate, as usual, was locked. The gates of all the apartment houses are locked at 10:30 p.m. In the summer, 10 in the winter. To get in or out after that hour, you clap your hands and the sereno—the block watchman, lifts his cane on the sidewalk in acknowledgment, then comes to let you in or out. You can see why Spain is such a moral country. A husband on the town, cannot creep in quietly. I find the custom of the sereno quite medieval.

Kurt Frings, agent for Elizabeth Taylor, might have been kidding and then again, he might not have been. But a friend of his told me Kurt was complaining that no one was offering Liz another picture right now. If anyone does, it had better include a co-starring role for Richard Burton. Whereas I think he would work without Elizabeth, I'm sure she would not sign for a picture without him.

The doctors have convinced Sophia Loren that she must slow down. And husband Carlo Ponti, scared when Sophia collapsed recently while filming "Condemned of Altona," is cancelling some of the pictures she was about to sign for.

But Sophia is insisting on starring in "Of Human Bondage," with Laurence Harvey. This very British story will be made in Ireland, because Larry would be liable for four years of English taxes if he stayed longer than a week or so in England. In the Somerset Maugham story, the girl is a Cockney with a limp. I suppose she can just as well limp as an Italian girl.

All-Canadian Flavor For 50 Cents at PNE

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Pacific National Exhibition, Canada's second largest annual fair, kicks off its 32nd season here Saturday, still charging the same 50-cent admission price that it did when the first one was held in 1910.

Its theme is one of Canada, aimed to catch the thousands of United States visitors in the area as a result of the World's Fair in Seattle.

The U.S. influx is expected to help give the 14-day PNE its first 1,000,000 attendance—it hit 1,111,000 last year and 943,000 in 1966 in its two best years so far.

"This is the people's show," said PNE President Thomas R. Fyfe on the eve of the opening.

"We've always felt that 50 cents is a nice round figure and that by holding our admission so that a chap with his wife and kids can get into the grounds for a couple of bucks."

"We're a civic organization and we're not here to make millions."

The PNE will be kicked off Saturday morning by a two-hour - long parade with 35 marching bands and 30 floats winding through downtown Vancouver.

Doctor Found Dead

Hours before he was to have been questioned by Vancouver police about the death of his wife, a Courtenay eye specialist was found dead in his Vancouver hotel room.

Though an autopsy failed to establish cause of the death of Dr. Hugh Stewart Beecher Galbraith, 57, police found a note which said he couldn't get along without his wife and wanted to join her.

His wife Mary died just a month ago from what police deduced at the time was a lethal dose of barbiturate sleeping drugs.

Several days later, however, analysis of the woman's stomach contents revealed a deadly quantity of cyanide.

Vancouver homicide specialists learned that Dr. Galbraith himself had bought a quantity of the fast-acting poison in Vancouver and had it shipped to his home in Courtenay.

Further inquiries disclosed that Dr. Galbraith had attempted to buy cyanide in Penicton—but a druggist there had refused to sell it to him.

The autopsy on Mrs. Galbraith indicated she was suffering from a brain tumor that might have been exceedingly painful. Police speculated, therefore, that she might have taken the poison herself.

Dr. Galbraith and his wife moved to Courtenay in January, 1959, and he established a practice.

Prior to that, he had practised 21 years in Vancouver.

DR. H. S. B. GALBRAITH

served as a physician aboard several CPR vessels and spent six years in the army.

He attended the University of Manitoba, interned in Vancouver and completed his specialist studies in England and Vienna.

Police have dropped the investigation.

Two Island Babies Born Malformed

B.C. Health Minister Eric Martin said yesterday two malformed babies were born in June to Vancouver Island mothers who had taken the drug thalidomide during pregnancy.

The minister said in these cases and three similar ones which occurred during the month in the Lower Mainland area there is "a possibility that the drug was responsible for the malformation of the baby."

It was not possible to be certain of the cause of congenital malformations of newborn babies, a health department spokesman said later. The official declined to say whether the Island cases occurred in the Greater Victoria area.

The investigation by the provincial health department covered a period from June 1 to June 30 this year. Results showed that during this period there were 22 notices of birth reporting congenital malformations of limbs or the ears.

Of these, the report added, "In five cases so far, it has been established the mother took thalidomide during pregnancy, with the possibility that the drug was responsible for the malformation of the baby."

Mr. Martin said the investigation being undertaken by the health branch of his department is continuing.

TWO DELEGATES
Meanwhile, B.C. is sending two delegates to the federal-provincial conference which opens in Ottawa today to discuss joint measures to deal with the problem of deformities caused by thalidomide.

The invitation was issued by federal Health Minister Monteleith. Dr. G. R. F. Elliott, deputy provincial health officer, and J. A. Sadler, director of welfare for the province, will represent B.C.

Abattoir Rezoning Failure Could Boost Meat Prices

Failure to rezone 10 acres of residential property in View Royal to allow expansion of an abattoir could mean an increase in meat prices, counsel for a slaughterhouse operator told more than 50 persons crowded into View Royal Community Hall last night.

Cecil Branson, representing F. J. McGrath, 1925 Erskine, said that if the slaughterhouse could not expand to meet new federal-provincial regulations, cattle might have to be shipped to Vancouver for slaughter.

This would mean an increase in meat prices or the abandoning of proper meat inspection in Greater Victoria, he said, after reading a letter from the Metropolitan Board of Health supporting Mr. McGrath's application.

COUNTER-PROPOSALS
Mr. Branson explained that his client was equally opposed to possible encroachment of industry into View Royal as property-owners who opposed the industrial rezoning of the property.

He made two counter-proposals to offset the fears of residents that new industries would deteriorate property values.

"We are asking that either the property be explicitly rezoned for the exclusive use of an abattoir and nothing else, or that there be a special area set aside for abattoirs only—similar to a motel zone," he explained.

LIMIT THE AREA

Opposition arguments centred around the validity of Mr. Branson's first counter-proposal.

"How do we know that such a request can be written into the zoning bylaw?" asked one ratepayer.

"Would it be limited to just one abattoir or abattoirs?" asked Mrs. Agnes Logal, 19 Erskine.

"The only way it could be legally restricted to one would be to tightly limit the rezoning area," said chairman W. R. Canon, representing the department of municipal affairs which administers the unorganized territory.

"Then why not rezone only the required area and leave the rest of the 10 acres residential?" suggested J. B. Law, 293 Helmcken.

CPR to Slash Nanaimo Ship Service

Competition from the B.C. government ferry service will force the withdrawal of two Canadian Pacific ferries from the Nanaimo-Vancouver run in October, a CPR official announced yesterday.

The ferries Princess Elaine and Princess of Nanaimo—which make eight round trips daily between the two cities—will be withdrawn from service by Oct. 1, said J. N. Fraine, regional vice-president and general manager.

Only Canadian Pacific vessel in service on the run after Oct. 1 will be the train ferry Princess of Vancouver which will continue to make three daily round trips.

In announcing the drastic cutback, Mr. Fraine said "this route had been over-served for years and with the advent of the government's Swartz Bay-Taswassen service in 1960 the situation became more acute with traffic falling by one-third."

No decision has been made yet on disposition of the two vessels, said a CPR spokesman.

Decision to withdraw the ferries was made "with reluctance in view of the number of employees affected," said Mr. Fraine.

Most of the employees, however, will have several months' leave with pay due at the end of the summer season.

And some of the employees may apply for work on two new government ferries under construction in Victoria, which are expected to be in operation on the Nanaimo-Vancouver run next summer, said the official.

Attempts by Canadian Pacific to solve its problem of reduced traffic proved fruitless, and it appears that the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System can fill the gap with no inconvenience to the travelling public, said Mr. Fraine.

Canadian Pacific will continue to operate its summer services to Seattle and Alaska, and the train ferry Princess of Vancouver, which can carry 120 cars and 2,000 foot passengers.

Some Drug Reports 'Rigged' by Doctors?

By HAROLD MORRISON
WASHINGTON (CP)—A U.S. medical officer says he suspects some American doctors hired to test new drugs on their patients send back "rigged" or false reports to the drug manufacturers.

"I'm afraid that in some instances this may be the case," said Dr. K. L. Milstead, deputy enforcement director for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

"We're investigating and we don't want to say anything more until the record is completed. But this is a disturbing suspicion and one reason why we've tightened our regulations."

Under the U.S. system, a manufacturer can distribute samples of new drugs to doctors and ask them to test the products on their patients and report back results. This can be done even before the government licences the drugs for public marketing.

In the case of thalidomide, the sleep-inducing drug suspected of having caused thousands of deformed babies overseas and some in Canada, the U.S. manufacturer distributed samples to 1,248 American doctors who tested the drug on some 16,000 persons, including some pregnant women. There were no reports of deformities resulting from the tests.

But Dr. Frances O. Kelsey, the Canadian-born FDA medical officer who assessed the drug, successfully fought an 18-month battle to keep it off the market. President Kennedy gave her a gold medal, the highest civilian award for government employees, for having prevented a major tragedy in the U.S.

Now the government has drafted new regulations to increase federal policing of experimental drugs, requiring that companies report to the administration the names of every doctor employed or selected for specific testing and the results of these tests.

Under present U.S. laws, a doctor can tell a patient he's getting an experimental drug or he can keep the information from him. Dr. Kelsey has suggested that at least someone in the family should be told—a relative if not the patient himself.

Senator Jacob K. Javits, New York Republican, says that under the present system a patient can be turned into an involuntary guinea pig.

Drug manufacturers counter that generally they select only experts in their fields to handle the experiments. But federal officials retort: Who but the drug manufacturer judges the calibre of the so-called expert?

There have been suspicions that some doctors selected—hired on a company fee or annual salary basis—don't even do any testing, but merely send back a flattering report for the sake of collecting payment.

Dr. Milstead said he made a speech about this last May—before the thalidomide story broke—condemning "rigged" scientific experiments and investigations which in the medical field "involve the lives and welfare of sick people and their families."

TV TALK

By JIM TAYLOR

Lucille Ball is coming back next season, and it's a good thing. Otherwise, what would we do for comedy?

Certainly the occasional specials by people like Shelly Berman, and Mort Sahl are gems to look forward to, but what about regular, week in, week out comedy? Not very much.

If Bob Newhart comes back, he and Lucy will have about the only comedy shows worth watching, except for the talented bunch of relative unknowns who show up on the Tonight Show.

Let's hope Lucy's material is as good as it has been in the past. Even now, Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour reruns are still providing the biggest laughs on television.

Labor Urges Race Action In Georgia

CHICAGO (AP) — The AFL-CIO executive council urged President Kennedy Thursday to order the justice department into the Albany, Ga., racial dispute "to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful."

The 25-member council, ending its annual summer meeting, said in a resolution that the Negro civil rights campaign embodies "the greatest single moral issue of our time—the right of all citizens to equality."

"We hereby urge the president to instruct the department of justice to move into Albany, Ga., and to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful," the council said.

Stiff Rein Urged On Drugs

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association called on the federal government Thursday to split its food and drug directorate to permit stricter control of drugs.

Delegates to the CPA convention here said the drug field has grown so complex and presents such hazards it should be separated from food control.

They said a separate drug directorate would have the power to control the manufacture of drugs and their distribution through licensing.

The convention unanimously agreed there is a need for more stringent drug control in Canada, particularly in the manufacturing field.

Dr. A. W. Matthews, dean of the University of British Columbia faculty of pharmacy, was elected president of the association.

Must Concentrate At That Speed

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 19-year-old youth, who went through three stop signs at speeds over 100 miles an hour trying to evade a police cruiser, was fined $160 in provincial court here on a charge of furious driving.

Bonner Rejects Sect's Case Bid

Attorney-General Bonner Thursday turned down a request from Sons of Freedom Doukhobor leaders for review of the cases of six Doukhobites jailed for obstructing justice.

"Questions of whether or not convictions have been properly obtained are subject to appeal in superior courts and not to this office," he said. Members of the Freedomites' fraternal council said in a letter to the attorney-general the six Sons, serving one to two-year prison terms, were convicted on the same kind of evidence rejected by a magistrate when he dismissed conspiracy charges against 72 council members.

Council spokesman Joe Podivnikoff said later: "It's fine for him to tell us to go to court, he's got the people's money to play with."

"What does he think we are—millionaires?"

"Is there one kind (of justice) for people who can hire the best lawyers and another for the poor?"

A Freedomite spokesman said in Vancouver the committee's statement "shows those people are not satisfied with the decision of the courts and shows the prejudice prevalent in the Kootenays."

"It shows why members of our council charged with any offence couldn't get fair play in the Kootenays—anyone accused was judged before the trial began," said Mr. Podivnikoff.

A letter from the state social welfare department last year told her:

"Your staff and yourself are to be commended for the excellent services offered the patients entrusted to your care."

Red Tape Kills Nursing Home

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — A nursing home described by a state investigator as "a shining example" closed Thursday because, the proprietor said:

"It was just impossible. There were 10 state and federal agencies putting forms, questions and statistical requests across my desk. Medical reports . . . census figures . . . social security . . . unemployment insurance . . . workmen's compensation . . . withholding taxes . . . daily time sheets . . . work plans."

Mrs. Karl Gundrum, who has operated the 24-room home in nearby Defreestville for 10 years, added:

"In one form they asked me if I had any dealings with a labor union. I checked 'no.' They asked me if I received any gifts from, or gave any to, the union. I left that blank, figuring if I didn't deal with a union I naturally didn't exchange presents."

"So they sent the questionnaire back, telling me to fill in the blanks."

"It was just one darn thing after another."

Mrs. Gundrum had 21 patients and 14 employees.

A letter from the state social welfare department last year told her:

"Your staff and yourself are to be commended for the excellent services offered the patients entrusted to your care."

Turks Raided

ANKARA (AP)—Iraqi planes raided Turkish territory for the second straight day Thursday, the Turkish foreign ministry announced. It said later Iraq apologized for the incidents and promised to punish those responsible.

A brief announcement said Turkish jets fired on an attacking Iraqi plane near Bitkan, about 25 miles inside Turkish territory.

Turkey had protested sharply to Iraq following the death of two soldiers in Wednesday's attacks, also near Bitkan.

Sun Dances Eclipsed By Confusion

STAND OFF, Alta. (CP)—Times and civilization have forced changes in ancient dances performed at an annual two-week celebration staged near here by the Blood Indian reserve.

Indian leaders say it's unlikely the entire series ever will be performed again. A special sun lodge, covered with branches, built for the first time this year since 1945, won't be built again. The intricate dances were staged in the lodge.

The first dance to go is the sun dance performed by members of the Blood Society of the Blood Indian tribe. Only two elderly men know the intricate chants for it.

FEW VOLUNTEER
One is Riding-At-The-Door, who performed at this year's ceremony and the other is blind and unable to participate.

The dance must be led by an extremely saintly woman and Indian leaders say few will volunteer.

About 1,000 tribe members took part in the celebration this year. They ended Wednesday. They were held, as has been the custom for years, at Belly Buttes, a wind-swept slope above the Belly River, about 25 miles southwest of Lethbridge. The land has never been turned by a plow and has been the domain of the mighty Blackfoot nation since they drove the Crees south. The Blood tribe was assigned to guard the area.

SOME CONFUSION
Because only two men know the entire series of chants interpretation of the ceremonies are confused. Some Indians say the rites used symbols of Christianity, others say the prayers were intended for the sun god.

Still others say the sun is an enemy and the purpose of the ceremony is to make the thunderbird release rain.

The camp at Belly Buttes in many ways was the personification of the Indian as he once was—the proud and mighty warrior, master of all as far as he could see.

OTTAWA (CP)—A section of ice shelf covering some 200 square miles has detached itself from the north coast of Ellesmere Island at the top of the continent and is floating freely in the Arctic Ocean, the Defence Research Board said Thursday.

The huge area of ice, located about 2,000 miles north of Ottawa, is believed by DRE scientists to have maintained its original fixed position for hundreds of years before breaking away.

DRIFTED IN MILES
The detachment of the ice shelf was reported by DRE following the return to Ottawa of Dr. Geoffrey Hattersley-Smith, DRE glaciologist, from the research station at Lake Hazen on Ellesmere Island.

Dr. Hattersley-Smith said the huge ice shelf has apparently drifted some 30 miles from its original landfast position near the field research area of a United States party active in 1960.

Principle Over NATO

U.S. Snubs Ally For Indonesia

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The non-aligned Indonesian regime, with its friendly links to Moscow, has scored a major triumph over a NATO member in trouble - loaded Southeast Asia.

Just as another NATO ally, Portugal, found reason to be upset with the role of the United States in the loss of tiny Goa, so The Netherlands may also have reason to be displeased with the lack of U.S. support in opposing Indonesia's take-over of West New Guinea.

Faced with the prospect of fighting a lonely and costly war over a jungle-choked territory, the Dutch government has yielded with all the grace it could muster and acceded to President Sukarno's demands that it get out of Dutch New Guinea as quickly as possible.

VOTE IN SEVEN YEARS

The Aug. 15 agreement signed at the United Nations turns over West New Guinea to Indonesia next May after a temporary reign by the United Nations. And Indonesia has agreed to allow the Papuan natives to decide in seven years whether they want to remain part of Indonesia or become independent.

While the U.S. may be tied to Portugal and the Netherlands through the North Atlantic alliance, American diplomats are usually aware of the growth of non-aligned political forces and are actively courting these forces by making clear by deed and word the U.S. repugnance of old-style colonialism.

This may not help promote warmth and cohesion among the NATO allies. But in persuading The Netherlands to play ball with Sukarno, the U.S. at least has helped restore peace in a troublesome area.

Douglas Parking Ban Killing Small Shops

Three Saanich merchants have been forced to close shop because of the recently erected no-parking signs along Douglas Street. Angry owners say others may have to follow suit.

The signs went up Wednesday in four blocks between Tolmie and Saanich Road, and so did the tempers of merchants.

Saanich signs were posted after formal action was threatened by J. Everett Brown, deputy minister of municipal affairs and chairman of the Capital Improvement District Commission, if the delay persisted.

As yet only Saanich has complied. The signs were due to go up July 1 between Saanich Road and the Roundabout. CIDC allocated $175,000 to beautify the approach to the city on condition the ban go into effect in Victoria and Saanich. Six lanes of traffic were to be created.

The general feeling of frustration was summed up by L. N. G. Rusk, owner of Rusk's Grocery, 3214 Douglas. "I'll kill off all the small businesses along here."

SIX LANES PLANNED

Mr. Rusk said he knew of three businesses forced to close as a direct result of the ban.

Mrs. David Cooper, partner with her husband in Dave Cooper Plumbing and Heating and a business block at 3293 Douglas, said: "We're going to ignore it. If they give me a ticket I'll tear it up."

She said "at least 50 per cent" of the business would be gone.

BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM

"We've been in business here 20 years. All of a sudden they take our business away. This beautification program is ridiculous. They say they are doing it for the tourists. What about us who live here. It doesn't make sense."

Clay Bruce, owner of Bruce's Pharmacy at 3220 Douglas, who spent $3,000 remodeling his store last year, said he will either "collapse or have to move." Meanwhile, he has improved and enlarged his parking lot at the rear of his store. "I depend on passing traffic for one-third to one-half of my business. Every nickel I have is in this business. When people see they can't park they just won't stop," he complained.

USING WITH CARE

Mr. Bruce said he saw no reason for six lanes of traffic because the Roundabout is a "bottleneck."

Also dependent on transient traffic is Martin Lee, owner of Lee's Grocery at 3297 Douglas. He estimated more than 25 per cent of his business to be off the curb.

"People won't pull off on a side street," he said. "They'll just keep going until they find a place where they can stop." Ron Blaisdell will have to fire some of his staff if the expected drop in business comes about.

Owner of Clark's Auto and Truck Parts, he said losses may go as high as 50 per cent. "They would be giving us a chance if they banned parking during morning and evening rush hours."

Stan Chu, part owner of the Hong Kong Restaurant at 3214 Douglas, said his business will be affected.

IN ONE EAR

Harry's Grocery across from Lee's is already empty. The owner moved to Oak Bay, said Mr. Lee, because he believed the parking ban would kill his business.

The affected merchants have not formally organized to fight the ban. They appeared in body twice before Saanich council but "it went in one ear and out the other," said Mr. Rusk.

Cause and effect stand side by side at 3268 Douglas where no parking signs are said to be forcing merchants out of business. Harry's Grocery stands empty.—(Colonist photo.)

Wife's Death Investigated

Man Facing Probe Dead in Hotel Room

Hours before he was to have been questioned by Vancouver police about the death of his wife, a Courtenay eye specialist was found dead in his Vancouver hotel room.

Though an autopsy failed to establish cause of the death of Dr. Hugh Stewart Beecher Galbraith, 57, police found a note which said he couldn't get along without his wife and wanted to join her.

His wife Mary died just a month ago from what police deduced at the time was a lethal dose of barbiturate sleeping drugs.

Several days later, however, analysis of the woman's stomach contents revealed a deadly quantity of cyanide.

Vancouver homicide specialists learned that Dr. Galbraith himself had bought a quantity of the fast-acting poison in Vancouver and had it shipped to his home in Courtenay.

Further inquiries disclosed that Dr. Galbraith had attempted to buy cyanide in Penticton—but a druggist there had refused to sell it to him.

The autopsy on Mrs. Galbraith indicated she was suffering from a brain tumor that might have been exceedingly painful. Police speculated, therefore, that she might have taken the poison herself.

Dr. Galbraith and his wife moved to Courtenay in January, 1959, and he established a practice.

Prior to that, he had practised 21 years in Vancouver, served as a physician aboard several CPR vessels and spent six years in the army.

He attended the University of Manitoba, interned in Vancouver and completed his specialist studies in England and Vienna.

Police have dropped the investigation.

Fishing Newcomers Rescued from Rocks

NANAIMO — An Ontario family, who came to Vancouver Island only a few days ago to engage in commercial fishing, almost lost their boat the first time they took it to sea.

J. Rampanen and his four sons took the 26-foot troller Isabel Point II for a trial run and ran her on the rocks off Stephenson's Point early in the evening.

C. F. Newcombe, commissioner of the Greater Nanaimo water district who lives near the end of Stephenson's Point, saw the boat in trouble and notified police and harbor master John Dunham.

Mr. Dunham instructed the harbor patrol to investigate. In the meantime the RCMP had called the tug Davis Straits.

She arrived first at the scene of the wreck to find the Isabel Point awash, with only her bow remaining above water.

The five Rampanens were taken off by another fisherman, G. Stevens. Two of the shipwrecked family were transferred to the Davis Straits and the other three to the harbor patrol vessel.

The Isabel Point was subsequently pulled off the rocks and towed to Farmer's landing float where she was pumped out.

run next summer, said the official.

Attempts by Canadian Pacific to solve its problem of reduced traffic proved fruitless, and it appears that the B.C. Toll Authority Ferry System can fill the gap with no inconvenience to the travelling public, said Mr. Fraine.

Canadian Pacific will continue to operate its summer services to Seattle and Alaska, and the train ferry Princess of Vancouver, which can carry 120 cars and 2,000 passengers.

Decision to withdraw the ferries was made "with reluctance in view of the number of employees affected," said Mr. Fraine.

Most of the employees, however, will have several months' leave with pay due at the end of the summer season.

And some of the employees may apply for work on two new government ferries under construction in Victoria, which are expected to be in operation on the Nanaimo-Vancouver

She Wanted Test She Got Results

NANAIMO — Blood sample taken from a Nanaimo woman who pleaded guilty to impaired driving showed an alcohol content of .24.

"That," said Magistrate Lionel Beaver-Potts, as he ordered Margaret L. Wicks to pay a fine of $175, "is the highest figure which has ever come before this court."

The test was made at the request of the accused.

Her licence was also suspended for 18 months.

Taxed to Limit Moans Farmer On Blenkinsop

A Saanich farmer upset about being taxed $64 per month for the privilege of living in his own home, said yesterday he may have to sell and take up farming somewhere else.

"I didn't sleep the night I got my tax notice," said Alexander Olson, 4251 Blenkinsop. "My taxes were $772—$191.70 higher than last year."

"When it costs $64 per month to live in your own home that's going a little too far. If I can't get an adjustment on my assessment I'll have no alternative but to try and sell the place and move out to unorganized territory to start another farm," he said.

Mr. Olson, clutching his 1961 and 1962 tax notices in his hand, came to the Colonist yesterday "because I'm wondering if any other Saanich taxpayers are having the same trouble I am."

He said he bought 30 acres of farmland off Blenkinsop in 1951 and built his own home and barns there. He raises horses and cattle and grows hay and oats to feed the animals.

But, apparently because he had a job other than farming, several years ago the land was reclassified from farming to residential, with a subsequent boost in taxation, said Mr. Olson.

REACHED LIMIT "Saanich taxes have been going up and up, but this year they reached a limit where they were so high you can't afford to live in your own house."

"I bought the property with the intention of doing farming on a small scale. But I have to hold down another job because you can't make a living on a 30-acre farm."

"Yet they won't let the land be classified as farming, because I'm working as a farm auctioneer."

Mr. Olson said he paid his $772 taxes, less the home-owner's grant, Wednesday, but that he did so under protest.

Mothers Took Thalidomide

Island Babies Born Deformed

Two Cases Reported By Martin

B.C. Health Minister Eric Martin said yesterday two malformed babies were born in June to Vancouver Island mothers who had taken the drug thalidomide during pregnancy.

The minister said in these cases and three similar ones which occurred during the month in the Lower Mainland area there is "a possibility that the drug was responsible for the malformation of the baby."

It was not possible to be certain of the cause of congenital malformations of newborn babies, a health department spokesman said later.

More News Of Island On Page 17

The official declined to say whether the Island cases occurred in the Greater Victoria area.

21 MALFORMED

The investigation by the provincial health department covered a period from June 1 to June 30 this year. Results showed that during this period there were 22 notices of birth reporting congenital malformations of limbs or the ears.

Of these, the report added, "in five cases so far, it has been established the mother took thalidomide during pregnancy, with the possibility that the drug was responsible for the malformation of the baby."

Mr. Martin said the investigation being undertaken by the health branch of his department is continuing.

TWO DELEGATES

Meanwhile, B.C. is sending two delegates to the federal-provincial conference which opens in Ottawa today to discuss joint measures to deal with the problem of deformities caused by thalidomide.

The invitation was issued by federal Health Minister Monteth. Dr. G. R. F. Elliott, deputy provincial health officer, and J. A. Sedler, director of welfare for the province, will represent B.C.

If Pensioners Evicted

Cheap Comfort Sacrificed —For What?

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Twelve pensioners may be turned out of their $3-a-month cabins at 522 Admirals Road.

Esquimalt municipal council has been thinking about condemning the wooden cabins because of inadequate chimneys and foundations and shortage of toilets and wash basins.

Coun. Bert Nelson suggested at a recent council meeting that residents of 522 Admirals should be "given a proper period of time to move into quarters they are entitled to."

But where would they go? A Colonist survey yesterday showed that for most of them, any move would mean an increase of from $20 to $35 a month in their cost of living.

The same problem faced residents of cabins on Johnson Street and Blanshard Street in the city when their homes were demolished several years ago.

All of them found accommodation, a social welfare worker reports. "We didn't have any particular trouble finding them places."

"It's true that they had increases of $20 a month or so in their rents. The money they have been spending for something else must go for rent."

"But this only puts them in the same position as most of the other pensioners."

spinach, chard and lettuce at 522 Admirals. "It's what you get out of playing around growing it. . . ."

"Oh, I get along here, all right. I should have been out of here long ago," he said gruffly. But he sounded as if he didn't mean it.

"I've lived here seven years. I have lots of places to go, but I don't want the others kicked out."

Put In Potatoes

Commented John McLeod, standing in his potato patch: "I'm comfortable here. You can beat this place with a piece of paper in the stove."

When I got here it was all weeds. I spaded it and put in potatoes. Fourteen years ago.

"All I have is $65 a month. How can I pay rent out of that? One man who used to live here, he's in a home, and he's paying $100 and something a month. But then, he's a man who has money."

The pensioners' reluctance to move indicates a demand by old people for low-rental housing.

Standing in the way of low-rent building are municipal regulations that order minimum floor areas and other standards.

Outside organized municipalities, standards are less severe.

Mrs. Charles Walmough of Cushman Lake, Salt Spring Island, has no varanda in any of her 25 cabins which she rents to pensioners at prices from $10 to $16 a month.

"Make a profit on them? I don't. It's a hobby with me. This year I was out of pocket. But I put in fridges and washing machines and old stoves."

"Maybe some people could build cabins and run them at a profit with rents like these."

'Village' Salutes Victoria

Oak Bay's Village Fair, scheduled for Sept. 14 and 15, will salute Victoria's centennial this year.

Decision on whether Oak Bay council will participate in the venture is expected today.

George Robbins, chairman of the board of trade, said yesterday the board is open to any ideas and hopes the fair will be used by council to make an official goodwill gesture to Victoria.

Plans call for rides for children, stalls to line village sidewalks, an open-air auction and public dancing both evenings at the Club Tango with 1962 costumes a must.

Also being investigated is the possibility of staging a provincial horseshoe-pitching championship.

Thieves Loot Church Box

An undetermined amount of money was stolen when thieves broke into the church box at St. Andrew's Church some time Wednesday. The theft was discovered yesterday.

CPR to Slash Nanaimo Ship Service

Competition from the B.C. government ferry service will force the withdrawal of two Canadian Pacific ferries from the Nanaimo-Vancouver run in October, a CPR official announced yesterday.

The ferries Princess Elaine and Princess of Nanaimo, which make eight round trips daily between the two cities, will be withdrawn from service by Oct. 1, said J. N. Fraine, regional vice-president and general manager.

Only Canadian Pacific vessels in service on the run after

Oct. 1 will be the train ferry Princess of Vancouver which will continue to make three daily round trips.

In announcing the drastic cutback, Mr. Fraine said "this route had been over-served for years and with the advent of the government's Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service in 1960 the situation became more acute with traffic falling by one-third."

No decision has been made yet on disposition of the two vessels, said a CPR spokesman.

Decision to withdraw the ferries was made "with reluctance in view of the number of employees affected," said Mr. Fraine.

Most of the employees, however, will have several months' leave with pay due at the end of the summer season.

Marlyn, their 13-year-old daughter, was in charge of three other younger children, including a six-week-old sister, during a brief absence of her parents.

She ran next door to ask her neighbors to call firemen, then carried and led her charges to safety.

The fire department was unable to control the flames before the house was gutted and the contents destroyed.

Loss was estimated at $9,000.

CAMPBELL RIVER — The Canadian Legion here is once again sponsoring a fishing derby, to be run off Aug. 17 to Aug. 20.

Around the Island

NANAIMO — A coroner's jury has completed its inquiry into the death of Henry Hope and his wife, Mary Margaret, of Lantzville, who were found July 26 in the burned-out remains of their home.

The jury ruled that Mr. Hope and his wife, who were believed to be 102 and 90 years of age respectively, met death through suffocation.

They added a recommendation to the effect that "legislation should be adopted that would permit removal of elderly people, who are mentally and physically unfit to care for themselves and their property."

Witnesses testified that neither of the old people could see properly, and often could not tell the difference between night and day. It was stated welfare authorities had tried to move them from their home, but without success.

NANAIMO — Police are investigating circumstances concerning injuries suffered by a young dog which fell—or was thrown—from the roof of the Eaton's store.

The dog was taken to the Nanaimo veterinary hospital, where it is being treated for a broken leg.

Mrs. J. L. McGrath, president of the SPCA, who reported the incident, stated this is one of a long list of similar happenings, although cats are more often the victims than dogs.

LAKE COWICHAN — The annual regatta, sponsored by Cowichan Lake Kiwanis Club, will be held Sunday beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Centre of activity will be Lakeview Park and it is hoped that some 2,000 people will turn out for the races and water sports.

DUNCAN — Chemainus man Daniel Robinson was taken to Duncan hospital with head injuries and cuts to his left hand after he lost control of his car, struck a railroad sign at the intersection of the Trans-Can-

COURTENAY — Possibility of the Pacific Northwest region of the National Model Railroaders' convention being held here next summer is being studied by a local committee.

At the convention in Vancouver last week it was suggested that Courtenay should play host in 1963 and there was no opposition.

Monday the RCAF Comox Model Club will be host at a meeting, to which civilians are invited, to discuss convention plans. A committee will likely be formed and official application made for the convention.

Such a gathering would be expected to bring in about 500 railroaders and their families from as far away as Idaho and Saskatchewan.

NANAIMO — Jack Holm, of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., forestry dept., is at Cowichan Lake, attending a meeting of foresters and forest nurserymen at the provincial forest experimental station there.

Some 70 professional foresters from the northwestern states, Alberta and B.C. are to be present at the gathering, which will be the best attended meeting of its kind ever held in this area.

PARKSVILLE — Prizes worth $250 will be awarded at the annual two-day salmon derby being held by Parksville Fish and Game Association Friday and Saturday, Aug. 18 and 19.

NANAIMO — John Marzoff, president of Marzoff Logging Co. Ltd., appeared for his company in police court Thursday to answer a charge of failing to file an income tax return.

Mr. Marzoff said his company had been unable to file a return because the firm's bookkeeper had gone away and taken all the company's accounts and records with him. Every effort had been made to obtain return of the records without success. The income tax authorities had been informed of the situation.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor Potts imposed the minimum fine of $25, but he suggested to crown counsel that no further proceedings be taken against the company for 30 days, provided that Mr. Marzoff instructs his own counsel to commence legal proceedings against the bookkeeper.

CHEMAINUS — Vancouver Island firefighters annual meet and competition was held recently in Chemainus, with 21 Vancouver Island volunteer fire departments represented.

Curb Reckless Boatmen
North Cowichan Insists

NORTH COWICHAN — Council very strongly supported a petition from 50 taxpayers in the Bird's Eye Cove and Maple Bay areas Wednesday requesting immediate action to control power boats in the bay.

Coun. Tony Staples said that despite speed regulations, some power boat operators "recklessly endanger the lives of swimmers" and cause damage to tied-up boats and floats.

Council will approach the RCMP asking for frequent patrols of the Maple Bay area. Members of the Chemainus-Crofton and District Chamber of Commerce will be advised that council is considering construction of a sidewalk on Maple Street. Another request from the chamber, the paving of some streets, is routine work and has already been in the hands of the public works committee for some time. It was noted the cost of sidewalk construction is shared between the municipality and residents concerned.

Coun. Reginald Clegg, speaking on behalf of a taxpayer who complained about the smell from Crofton pulp mill, was informed by Reeve Donald Morton nothing can be done unless certain amendments in the act are made.

At present, the reeve said, council can only write a polite letter asking the management to continue the air pollution research.

Council decided to advertise approximately three-quarters of a million feet of timber in the Little Mount Sicker area to be sold on stumpage basis as recommended by the forestry committee.

$25 Blind Allowance VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian Council of the Blind has renewed its support for a long-standing campaign to obtain a $25-a-month cost-of-blindness allowance from the federal government.

Tug Plucks Professor
From Nanaimo Waters

NANAIMO — A university professor spent eight hours clinging to his partly-submerged motor boat before he was rescued by a passing tug Thursday.

Search headquarters said Dr. William Harrison White, a professor of geology at the University of British Columbia, was rescued eight hours after his 14-foot boat was swamped. The tug took Dr. White to Nanaimo.

The government ferry Sidney later reported another tug had salvaged Dr. White's boat about 11 miles east of Nanaimo harbor.

Excavation Work Ordered

DUNCAN — Although actual construction of the new $3,655,600 Cowichan District Hospital will not start for several months, as final approval from the provincial government has been delayed, first excavating and road building will get under way soon.

'Negligent' Charge Dismissed

NANAIMO — Charge of criminal negligence against a teen-aged driver, Eugene Beaulieu, was dismissed in city magistrate's court here yesterday for lack of evidence.

Magistrate Lionel Beevor Potts, however, considered the circumstances were such that a reduced charge of dangerous driving might be entered.

Defence lawyer Don Cumliffe had sought to have Beaulieu, recommitment to the juvenile court, but the magistrate said he was powerless to do so.

The charge arose from the death on July 28 of Christopher Skeldoch, a passenger in Beaulieu's car when it was in collision with a car driven by Joseph S. Fombert on Highway 19 just north of St. George.

W. C. Jones Dies

LADYSMITH — Wilfrid Clark Jones, 61, well-known educator, died in Ladysmith General Hospital following an illness of some months.

A native of Nanaimo, he moved to Ladysmith with his parents 39 years ago. In June of this year he retired after 41 years of teaching, 35 of these in Ladysmith schools. He was a rural teacher at the Cassidy and Diamond schools. He was principal of the first Ladysmith elementary school.

The contract for both jobs was awarded to B. and B. Buldozing, Duncan, submitting the lowest bid of $10,430. Other bids came from a Victoria firm, Wakeman and Trimble Contractors Ltd. and Norman Copley of Cobble Hill.

Deadline for the contract's completion is Sept. 30.

The new road to the hospital site will give direct access from Cowichan Lake Road. The site is near the intersection of Gibbins Road and Cowichan Lake Road. The provincial government, paying half of the entire hospital cost, approved the excavating and road building.

Meanwhile the Duncan hospital board was advised by Victoria that as soon as the minister of health returns to the capital, he will reply to the letter the board had sent inquiring about the delay in final government approval.

Labor Urges Race Action In Georgia

CHICAGO (AP) — The AFL-CIO executive council urged President Kennedy Thursday to order the justice department into the Albany, Ga., racial dispute "to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful."

The 28-member council, ending its annual summer meeting, said in a resolution that the Negro civil rights campaign embodies "the greatest single moral issue of our time—the right of all citizens to equality."

"We hereby urge the president to instruct the department of justice to move into Albany, Ga., and to make our constitutional guarantees meaningful," the council said.

Stiff Rein Urged On Drugs

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian Pharmaceutical Association called on the federal government Thursday to split its food and drug directorate to permit stricter control of drugs.

Delegates to the CPA convention here said the drug field has grown so complex and presents such hazards it should be separated from food control.

They said a separate drug directorate would have the power to control the manufacture of drugs and their distribution through licensing.

The convention unanimously agreed there is a need for more stringent drug control in Canada, particularly in the manufacturing field.

Dr. A. W. Matthews, dean of the University of British Columbia faculty of pharmacy, was elected president of the association.

U.S. Snubs Ally For Indonesia

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The non-aligned Indonesian regime, with its friendly links to Moscow, has scored a major triumph over a NATO member in trouble-laden Southeast Asia.

Just as another NATO ally, Portugal, found reason to be upset with the role of the United States in the loss of tiny Goa, so the Netherlands may also have reason to be displeased with the lack of U.S. support in opposing Indonesia's take-over of West New Guinea.

Faced with the prospect of fighting a lonely and costly war over a jungle-choked territory, the Dutch government has yielded with all the grace it could muster and acceded to "resident Sukarno's demands that it get out of Dutch New Guinea as quickly as possible."

The Aug. 15 agreement signed at the United Nations turns over West New Guinea to Indonesia next May after a temporary reign by the United Nations. And Indonesia has agreed to allow the Papuan natives to decide in seven years whether they want to remain part of Indonesia or become independent.

While the U.S. may be tied to Portugal and the Netherlands through the North Atlantic alliance, American diplomats are acutely aware of the growth of non-aligned political forces and are actively courting these forces by making clear by deed and word the U.S. repugnance of old-style colonialism.

This may not help promote warmth and cohesion among the NATO allies. But in perceiving the Netherlands to play ball with Sukarno, the U.S. at least has helped restore peace in a troublesome area.

Four Tots Die in Fire

KIPAWA, Que. (CP) — Four children ranging in age from nine months to four years were burned to death Thursday when fire ripped through their frame-cabin home in the bush nine miles from this community, 36 miles northeast of North Bay, Ont.

The victims, children of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Dugay, were: Tracy, nine months; Jean, 2; Wilks, 3; and Carleen, 4. Two other children, one in the house when the fire broke out, escaped injury.

Sun Rites Setting

STAND OFF. Alta. (CP) — Time and civilization have forced changes in ancient dances performed at an annual two-week celebration staged near here by the Blood Indian reserve.

Indian leaders say it's unlikely the entire series ever will be performed again. A special sun lodge, covered with branches, built for the first time this year since 1943, won't be built again. The intricate dances were staged in the lodge.

The first dance to go is the sun dance performed by members of the Horn Society of the Blood Indian tribe. Only two elderly men know the intricate chants for it.

NEW VOLUNTEER

One is Riding-At-The-Door, who performed at this year's ceremony and the other is blind and unable to participate.

The dance must be led by an extremely saintly woman and Indian leaders say few will volunteer.

Because only two men know the entire series of chants interpretation of the ceremonies are confused. Some Indians say the rites used symbols of Christianity, others say the prayers were intended for the sun god.

Still others say the sun is an enemy and the purpose of the ceremony is to make the thunderbird release rain.

'Direct Appeal To Court'

Attorney-General Bonner Thursday turned down a request from Sons of Freedom Doukhobor leaders for review of the cases of six Freedomites jailed for obstructing justice.

Questions of whether or not convictions have been properly obtained are subject to appeal in superior courts and not to this office," he said.

Members of the Freedomites' fraternal council said in a letter to the attorney-general the six Sons, serving one to two-year prison terms, were convicted on the same kind of evidence rejected by a magistrate when he dismissed conspiracy charges against 72 council members.

Council spokesman Joe Podivnikoff said later: "It's fine for him to tell us to go to court, he's got the people's money to play with."

"What does he think we are—millionaires?"

TWO KINDS?

"Is there one kind (of justice) for people who can hire the best lawyers and another for the poor?"

Mr. Podivnikoff said in Vancouver the committee's statement "shows those people are not satisfied with the decisions of the courts and shows the prejudice prevalent in the Kootenays."

"It shows why members of our council charged with any offence couldn't get fair play in the Kootenays—anyone accused was judged before the trial began," said Mr. Podivnikoff.

Pirate Killed

SINGAPORE (AP) — A pirate was killed in a gun fight with police on Banggi Island and 12 others were seized in a small boat cruising off North Borneo, the Royal Navy reported Thursday.

OTTAWA (CP) — A section of ice shelf covering some 200 square miles has detached itself from the north coast of Ellesmere Island at the top of the continent and is floating freely in the Arctic Ocean, the Defence Research Board said Thursday.

The huge area of ice, located about 2,600 miles north of Ottawa, is believed by DRB scientists to have maintained its original fixed position for hundreds of years before breaking away.

DRIFTED 30 MILES

The detachment of the ice shelf was reported by DRB following the return to Ottawa of Dr. Geoffrey Hattersley-Smith, DRB glaciologist, from the research station at Lake Hazen on Ellesmere Island.

Dr. Hattersley-Smith said the huge ice shelf has apparently drifted some 30 miles from its original landfast position near the field research area of a United States party active in 1958.

Prisoner, 30 Stabbed, Dies

PRINCE ALBERT (CP) — A 30-year-old prisoner at Prince Albert penitentiary was found stabbed to death in his cell during the noon meal period Thursday.

Fred Curran, penitentiary warden, said an officer on guard duty found the body of Russell MacCombsville. No weapon was found. RCMP are investigating.

Hit Parade Keeps Youth Off Streets

OTTAWA (UPI) — Veterans Canadian broadcaster Corey Thompson defends United States hit parade music as a "tremendous" weapon against juvenile delinquency.

"I'm tired of hearing people knock the American hit parade," he said. "It's keeping young people at home listening instead of having them roam the streets."

Clerics Press Ghana

PARIS (Reuters) — The World Council of Churches Thursday night asked the Ghanaian government to reconsider its decision to expel the Anglican bishop of Accra, Dr. Reginald Roseveare, and withdraw the visiting permit of the Archbishop of West Africa, Most Rev. Cecil Paterson.

EMIT, DUTY

A unanimous resolution said the council's central committee "reaffirms the belief that the true well-being of a people requires liberty to call public attention to matters affecting the common good and especially that those who hold pastoral office in the church have the right and duty to express responsible judgment in matters of religious faith affecting the life of society."

The International Council of Christian Churches, meeting in Amsterdam, Thursday passed a resolution saying its members "vigorously protest this denial of religious freedom by the Ghana government."

AMSTERDAM (AP) — The International Council of Christian Churches Thursday called Premier Khrushchev's outer space exploits blasphemy and said God will punish him.

"The constant insults which Mr. Khrushchev and his astro-nauts make to God and his people will not go unjudged by the Almighty," said a statement unanimously adopted by the council's fifth congress here.

INFAILLIBLE BIBLE

The ICC groups 83 small Protestant denominations and associations of churches whose key point of agreement is a belief in the infallibility of the scriptures. It opposes the bigger World Council of Churches, which contains the larger Protestant bodies.

Earlier Ernest C. Heber, president of the Middle East Bible Council, warned against any efforts to create religious fellowship with non-Christian groups such as Moslems or Buddhists.

Pickets Out In Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — A handful of pickets turned out in a light rain Thursday for demonstrations in front of the United States and Russian embassies protesting nuclear tests.

No Time to Read Signs

Must Concentrate At That Speed

WINNIPEG (CP) — A 19-year-old youth, who went through three stop signs at speeds over 100 miles an hour trying to evade a police cruiser, was fined $100 in provincial court here on a charge of furious driving.

Asked why he went through three stop signs, Terrance Wallace told the court:

"When I'm driving at 100 miles an hour I keep my eyes on the road."

Red Tape Kills Nursing Home

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — A nursing home described by a state investigator as "a shining example" closed Thursday because the proprietor said:

"It was just impossible. There were 18 state and federal agencies putting forms, questions and statistical requests across my desk. Medical reports... census figures... social security... unemployment insurance... workmen's compensation... withholding taxes... daily time sheets... work plans."

Mrs. Karl Gendrum, who has operated the 24-room home in nearby DeForestville for 18 years, added: "In one form they asked me if I had any dealings with a labor union. I checked 'no.' They asked me if I received any gifts from, or gave any to, the union. I left that blank, figuring if I didn't deal with a union I naturally didn't exchange presents."

"So they sent the questionnaire back, telling me to fill in the blanks. It was just one darn thing after another."

Mrs. Gendrum had 21 patients and 14 employees.

A letter from the state social welfare department last year told her: "Your staff and yourself are to be commended for the excellent services offered the patients entrusted in your care."
